British Columbia's voters' list should be revised without any further delay

Census Figures Set Population At 14,000,000

B.C. Percentage Rise Largest; Province Has 1,165,219 People

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP)—Canada's population hit the 14,000,000 mark in time for the June, 1951, decennial census with Ontario, Quebec and a surging British Columbia contributing 75 per cent of a record increase over 1941.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics said final tabulations of the census show there were 14,009,429 Canadians as of June, 1951, an increase of 2,502,774 or 21.8 per cent over the figure at the time of the 1941 census.

Of the 10-year increase a record numerically but not in the percentage field' Newfoundland contributed 361,416 new Canadians, but the big increases came mainly from the two big central provinces backed by B.C.

British Columbia far outstripped the other provinces in the percentage columns, adding 42.47 per cent to its 1941 population of 817,861 to become the third province to go beyond the million-mark with 1,165,219 people.

In sheer numbers, Ontario topped the lists. She grew by 899,887 or 21.38 per cent in reaching a population of 4,597,542 compared to 3,787,655 in 1941.

Quebec reached 4,055,611 compared to 3,331,882, an increase of 723,799 or 21.72 per cent.

Among them, Ontario, Quebec and B.C. accounted for an increase of roughly 1,880,000 or three-quarters of the over-all national increase.

OIL-RICH ALBERTA

Oil-rich Alberta was well down the lists with an 18-per-cent increase that took her to 939,501 from 796,169. The indications were, however, that she would be the fourth province to shoot past the 1,000,000 mark and that she might do it within the next few years.

Saskatchewan was the only province to lose people, dropping 7.17 per cent to 831,728 from 895,992. Manitoba increased by only 6.41 per cent, to 776,541 from 729,744.

The biggest jump, however, came in Yukon's 85.10 per cent boost to 9,096 from 4,914. Big too, was the Northwest Territories' 33.06 per cent jump to 16,004 from 12,028.

Bus Skids Through Bridge, 10 Hurt

Ten people were hurt, two seriously, when this bus skidded near Hamilton, Ontario, crashed through a bridge rail, and careered 150 feet down a 60-degree slope to a frozen canal. Passengers gave credit to the driver, Thomas Mackenzie of Toronto that the accident was not more serious. He later stood by to help his passengers until, cut and suffering from severe shock, he was rushed to hospital.

Higher Bus Fares Asked by B.C.E.R.

Cash Fare of 10 Cents Sought For Minimum Charge Zone

The B.C. Electric Railway Company yesterday announced it would seek permission to raise its basic Victoria bus fares from three for 25 cents to 10 cents each.

The company estimates the increase would bring in an extra $145,000 a year.

If it wins Public Utilities Commission approval, the company will raise the fares March 17.

The company is also seeking fare increases in mainland centres where it holds transportation franchises.

OUTLINES REASONS

Copies of a B.C.E.R. brief listing the proposed new fare schedules and outlining the reasons for the requested increases were delivered yesterday afternoon to Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt councils.

City Council will meet B.C.E.R. representatives Wednesday to discuss the proposal. Meetings with the other councils are expected to follow later this week.

The proposed increases for Victoria would mean a straight cash fare of 10 cents, eliminating the sale of tickets. Weekly bus passes would go up from $1.75 to $2. Children's cash fare would rise from four cents to five cents.

Zone 2 fares would go up from 10 to 13 cents for adults, and from five to six cents for children.

CHILDREN'S FARES

The increases would be the first since October, 1949. Children's fares have never been raised since the Greater Victoria franchise was signed in 1947.

E. W. Arnott, Victoria vice-president of the B.C.E.R., said in his brief to the councils that the fare increases are needed to meet higher labor, material and other operating costs.

He said the company was $335,394 in the red on its 1951 Greater Victoria transit operations.

New wage increases for B.C. E.R. employees, "which become effective March 1, will cost the company $76,000 a year.

LOSS IN VICTORIA

In 1952, even if all other costs stay at present levels, he said, the company will lose more than $100,000 on its bus operations in Greater Victoria, unless it gets the fare increases.

All B.C. Electric operations on Vancouver Island, including gas and electricity sales, as well as transportation produced a net operating income of $551,859 in 1951.

The company has a depreciated rate base of $19,760,679 for all its Island enterprises. On this it is allowed to earn a maximum of 5.8 per cent yearly. The company's $551,859 Island profit in 1951 amounted to only 2.79 per cent of the depreciated rate base.

MORE PROFIT

Lower mainland operations were much more profitable, the brief shows. There, net operating income was $2,923,937, or 4.75 per cent of the depreciated rate base of $166,879,887.

All B.C. operations brought in a net income of $8,475,796, the equivalent of 4.51 per cent on a depreciated rate base of $186,640,566.

The new fares schedule suggested by Mr. Arnott (with current fares in brackets):

Minimum Fare Zone (within 3½ miles of the city centre): Adults cash fare, 10 cents (10 cents); adult tickets, none (three for 25 cents); children's cash fare, five cents (four cents); children's tickets, six for 25 cents (eight for 25 cents); weekly pass, $2 ($1.75).

ZONE 2

Zone 2 (3½ mile to 4½ mile zone): adults cash fare, 13 cents (10 cents); adult tickets, four for 50 cents (none); children's cash fare, six cents (five cents); children's tickets, five for 25 cents (10 for 40 cents).

Zone 3 (4½ to five-mile zone): Adults, 15 cents (15 cents); children's cash fare, eight cents (eight cents); children's tickets, 10 for 70 cents (10 for 65 cents).

Families Escape Flames

Fire swept through a five-room house last night, leaving two families homeless.

Mr. and Mrs. George Leadbetter and their five small children ranging in ages from two to nine, with Mrs. E. Stevens and her two youngsters, were forced from their home at 536 Cecilia about 11.30 p.m. when a fire that originated in the kitchen of the Leadbetter house flashed through the rest of the rooms.

Arthur Kneeshaw, Leadbetter's next door neighbor at 532, saw the flames licking up the side of the porch. While his wife was phoning the fire department, he rushed next door and helped get the children out.

The fire spread so quickly, rescuers were forced to carry the children through the flames that raged over the back porch when they saw they were cut off from the rest of the house.

KITCHEN BURNED

The kitchen was burned out completely and heat and smoke damage took a heavy toll of the rest of the house.

City firemen arrived on the scene minutes after the fire started and had it under control quickly.

The basement suite where Mrs. Stevens and her children lived was not touched by the fire, but water seeping through from above has damaged it extensively.

Heat from the Leadbetter house was so intense, windows of the house next to it threatened to crack, and only quick work on the part of firemen prevented the fire from spreading to the Kneeshaw home.

Deportation Threatens Immigrant

Deportation, possibly into the hands of his arch-Communist enemies, faces a Russian immigrant to Victoria.

R. L. Bialuski, city Welfare Council executive, last night said the 45-year-old laborer may be deported because he has not been here the five years required for full citizenship, and is unable to work due to a heart ailment.

The man and his wife, Mr. Bialuski said, had been admitted to the country when his brother-in-law had guaranteed that the couple would not become public charges.

The brother-in-law, now on a small pension, cannot afford to do this, Mr. Bialuski said.

The Russian, who, Mr. Bialuski said, "fought against the Reds, and is on their blacklist," worked in China for 25 years before coming here.

He took a job as a laborer with a city lumber firm, but a heart attack a year ago put an end to his employment. His wife is also ill and unable to work, Mr. Bialuski said.

City welfare authorities would have to report any aid they give him to provincial headquarters, which in turn would have to list the case with Ottawa. Deportation, possibly to Red China, might be the result, Mr. Bialuski said.

Council members will investigate the case, and may appeal for relaxation of the immigration regulations covering the man's length of stay before citizenship.

Pearson Talks With Eden

LONDON, Feb. 11 (Reuters)—L. B. Pearson, Canadian external affairs minister, today called on Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

They are believed to have discussed next week's Lisbon conference of the ministerial conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, of which Pearson is chairman.

London Millions Mourn As King Comes Home

LONDON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Three sad queens and millions of humble Britons mourned on this dismal rainy day as the body of King George VI was brought back to London to lie in state for three days in ancient Westminster Hall.

Sovereign Elizabeth II, the Queen Mother and 84-year-old Queen Mary struggled with emotion as they stood in the middle of the brightly-lighted hall while the Archbishop of York conducted a 16-minute service.

Britain's young ruler gripped a handkerchief tightly in her gloved hand.

The Queen Mother's face was impassive. Queen Mary, who has seen a great deal of sorrow in her long life, was her stalwart self. Standing in front of Westminster Hall when a gun carriage arrived with the body of her son, she brushed aside her long veil and watched the solemn ceremonial procedure intently.

YOUNGEST QUEEN

Then the youngest Queen, just 25, followed the coffin into the medieval hall. Because she now is sovereign, her mother and grandmother followed her.

They stood throughout the short ceremony in the presence of both houses of parliament.

The King's coffin, brought by train from Sandringham, where the King died last Wednesday, was drawn atop a gun carriage along the three miles from the King's Cross station to Westminster.

Mourning subjects stood silently as the flag-draped coffin, Imperial crown glistening atop, made its slow progress along chill and rain-drenched streets. Some had waited all night.

Earlier in the day, Queen Elizabeth and her family attended a private funeral service at the little 16th century Church of St. Magdalene on the King's Sandringham estate in Norfolk.

SPECIAL COACH

The King's body then was carried aboard a special teakwood hearse coach for the 110-mile train trip to London. The Royal family rode in another coach.

The King will lie in state in Westminster Hall until next Friday. During the lying-in-state, the public will be permitted to file past in homage Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

While the Royal coffin moved through the streets of the capital, Elizabeth and her mother and sister, Princess Margaret, drove to Buckingham Palace before going to the service.

The Queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, and the dead monarch's brother, the Duke of Gloucester, walked bare-headed behind the coffin.

Magistrate Declares War On "Young Punks, Idiots"

Special to The Colonist

NANAIMO, Feb. 11—Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts, who ordered a youth out of court to get a haircut before proceeding with his case Monday, declared unrelenting war against "big shots, youthful punks and young idiots" who cause trouble in public dance halls here.

The bench slapped a $100 fine on a second youth in draped black trousers and black shirt for carrying a concealed knuckle-duster.

The youth whose unruly and lengthy hair roused the magistrate's ire was hustled out of court in care of his father to a barber shop across the street.

Upon his return the magistrate handed him a $25 fine and probation for a year for causing a disturbance in a dance hall.

A third youth who admitted drunkenness at a dance, was fined $10 and costs.

LONG LOCKS

The magistrate told the 17-year-old, heavy-locked youth: "I don't like juveniles appearing before me dressed like you. I don't like them with hair like you."

The youth said he had no comb as the long locks fell over one eye.

Addressing the boy's father the magistrate said: "Do you approve of this boy having a haircut like that?"

"No," replied the father.

"Then take him across the street and get his hair cut the same as yours," the magistrate said. "He'll have to have his hair cut before I'll deal with the case."

KNUCKLE DUSTER

William Roy Prestlien was assessed the $100 fine for having a knuckle-duster.

"You would be a big shot," said Magistrate Beevor-Potts heatedly. "There is a shorter term than that for you punk. I'll give you the maximum."

The magistrate warned that the maximum penalties would be handed out to any further offenders at public dances.

Referring to knuckle-dusters, the court said "Anyone carrying these things is a punk and a coward."

Hart at Hotel, "Feeling Fine"

HONOLULU, Feb. 11 (CP)—John Hart, former premier of British Columbia, was back in his Royal Hawaiian Hotel room tonight and "feeling fine" after six days in Queens Hospital.

He said he went to the hospital for a checkup and to recover from a bad cold.

"But I'm feeling fine now and I'm playing golf tomorrow," he added.

Mr. Hart came to Hawaii Dec. 13 for a six-week vacation.

Reds Announce Policy Change

MUNSAN, Korea, Feb. 12 (Tuesday) (AP)—The Communists today announced they were revising their policy recommendations for a Korean Truce.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il told Allied truce delegates at the close of a 35-minute statement:

"In order that a reasonable solution can be achieved on item five of the agenda, our side will be prepared to submit a revised version of our proposal at the next plenary session."

Item five concerns recommendations to the Korean belligerents concerning final peace.

The Reds had proposed a political conference be called within three months after a Korean armistice to negotiate withdrawal of foreign troops, a final peace settlement, and sweeping Asian problems involving Formosa, Indo-China and other issues.

The U.N. command balked at including non-Korean problems.

Nam said he doubted if the new recommendations would be ready in time for a plenary session of the truce delegations tomorrow.

Liaison officers were instructed to set a date later.

Toronto Stock Swindlers Seeking Victims in B.C.

By HARRY YOUNG,
Colonist Business Editor

The stock racketeers of Toronto are turning the heat on British Columbians. Within the past few weeks a number of letters from Toronto investment dealers have been delivered on Vancouver Island.

Some of these letters come from dealers about whom reputable Toronto Stock Exchange members know nothing.

"There is no one of that name at the address you give" was the reply from Toronto to one inquirer who had received an invitation to accept a "free" bulletin on Canadian stocks.

Most of these letters say "You do this without incurring any obligation."

TELEPHONE CALL

Another Victoria investor received a long-distance call from Toronto early one morning. The caller advised the purchase of certain stock, but on interrogation refused to divulge his name.

Some local investment dealers consider that the Toronto racketeers are turning their attention to the Canadian west not only because they know that they are entering an area with an oil and mining boom on its hands, but also because their activities in the United States have recently been tightened down by extradition threats.

PHONEY OPERATORS

Harry Gassard, director of education of the Canadian Investment Dealers' Association, said in Victoria yesterday that his association was very much alive to the presence of "phoney" stock operators.

"The trouble is, it is very difficult to nail them down," said Mr. Gassard. "Most of them are skilful enough just to keep within the law."

Mr. Gassard, however, said that the public had an easy way of protecting itself by dealing only with reputable stockbrokers or by checking the credentials of any dealer before doing business.

Savings May Set Price Level

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP)—Graham F. Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, indicated today the rate of personal savings will be among factors determining the trend of prices this year.

He said it is difficult to predict what will happen to prices this year. It will depend on the rate of personal savings, the effect of increased defense expenditures in North America and whether any "frightening" developments occur in the international field.

Mr. Towers held a press conference to answer questions on his 1951 report of the bank's operations, which contained a description of economic trends from the outbreak of the war in Korea in June, 1950, but gave no predictions.

PRICES LEVEL

He said an encouraging feature of the fight against inflation was the way in which personal savings increased during the last six months of last year. Another was that there was no increase in the wholesale price level in the last six months, despite substantial increases in defense expenditures and capital investment.

Without giving the figures in dollars, the report said it was estimated that new capital investment expenditures in Canada during 1951 were 22 per cent higher in value than in 1950 and perhaps 9 per cent greater in physical volume.

This investment would mean greater production facilities will be available this year, said Mr. Towers.

(The bureau of statistics reported last week that personal savings had climbed to $1,781,000,000 from $820,000,000 in 1950.)

Third Bad Crash Shuts Off Airport

ELIZABETH, N.J., Feb. 11 (AP)—The third grave air disaster in two months closed busy Newark airport today. A clamor arose to keep it closed forever.

The death toll in the crash of a four-engined National Airlines plane rose to 31 tonight when honeymooner Harold De Flofe of Maverne N.Y., died in Elizabeth General Hospital. His widowed bride was reported in good condition.

Four of the dead were trapped in a 52-family apartment house, set afire by the crash.

Forty persons—mostly plane passengers—were hurt, a third of them seriously.

CLOSE TOGETHER

The three crashes in Elizabeth have claimed 117 lives in 58 days.

The huge Miami-bound airliner with 63 aboard was in trouble almost as she left the ground. Three miles from the airport one of two engines failed and the pilot radioed a terse "Can't make it back."

With the passengers inside screaming in terror, the plane thundered downward from the brightly moonlit sky, just missed a children's home where 46 youngsters were asleep and smacked into the apartment building. In an instant, flames mushroomed from the building.

PITIFULLY HURT

Survivors, many pitifully hurt, crawled or were dragged from the broken fuselage.

The scene was only three-quarters of a mile from the Dec. 16 crash of a non-scheduled C-46 that cost 56 lives. It was a mile and a quarter from a Jan. 22 crash of an American Airlines Consair that killed 30 more persons, including seven on the ground.

Less than three hours later, the Port of New York Authority shut down the airport.

Seattle Mayor Wins Primary

SEATTLE, Feb. 11 (AP)—Incumbent Mayor William F. Devin was a clear winner tonight in a primary election with 41,850 votes in complete returns from 511 precincts.

His opponent in the general election will be Allan Pomeroy, who trailed with 35,087. Devin narrowly defeated Pomeroy in the 1950 finals. Two political dark horses polled less than 3,000 votes between them today.

Primary elections were held today in 22 Washington State cities.

Figureheads Join Canadian Navy

When the Canadian frigate, H.M.C.S. Swansea left Bermuda last week she had on board souvenirs of the Royal Navy of the last century in the form of old-time figureheads. The tall, wooden lady in the centre once adorned the bow of H.M.S. Imaun, port guardship in Jamaica between 1856 and 1862. The kingly head belonged to H.M.S. Conqueror, another old-time Royal Navy ship. The British Admiralty has granted permission to the Canadian Navy to take them to Halifax. —(CP photo.)

Shabby Old Vagrant Loaded With Money

MARKESAN, Wis., Feb. 11 (INS)—Eighty-one-year-old Gus Neuendorf is going to stay home for awhile. His sight-seeing trip from his home in Markesan, Wis., to neighboring Columbia County stirred up too much of a fuss for his liking.

He went first to Portage, Wis. There, police did what they thought was a kindness for a shabbily dressed old man carrying a shoebox and an old suitcase, and he spent the night in a warm jail.

Five days later, Neuendorf popped up at Cambria, Wis. He met the police there when a hotel clerk charged him with creating a disturbance over a $2 hotel bill.

The Cambria police escorted the guest back to Portage. There, a search of his effects, intended only to establish his identity, disclosed a wallet containing $113 and a second wallet with bank slips indicated deposits totaling $59,000. His suitcase contained $10,500 in $10, $20, $50 and $100 bills.

The police escorted Neuendorf to a bank deposit vault. Then they took him home.

Ten people were hurt, two seriously, when this bus skidded near Hamilton, Ontario, crashed through a bridge rail, and careered 150 feet down a 60-degree slope to a frozen canal. The Queen Mother's face was impassive. Queen Mary, who has seen a great deal of sorrow in her long life, was her stalwart self. Standing in front of Westminster Hall when a gun carriage arrived with the body of her son, she brushed aside her long veil and watched the solemn ceremonial procedure intently.

YOUNGEST QUEEN

Then the youngest Queen, just 25, followed the coffin into the medieval hall. Because she now is sovereign, her mother and grandmother followed her.

They stood throughout the short ceremony in the presence of both houses of parliament.

The King's coffin, brought by train from Sandringham, where the King died last Wednesday, was drawn atop a gun carriage along the three miles from the King's Cross station to Westminster.

Mourning subjects stood silently as the flag-draped coffin, imperial crown glistening atop, made its slow progress along chill and rain-drenched streets. Some had waited all night.

Earlier in the day, Queen Elizabeth and her family attended a private funeral service at the little 16th century Church of St. Magdalene on the King's Sandringham estate in Norfolk.

SPECIAL COACH

The King's body then was carried aboard a special teak-wood hearse coach for the 110-mile train trip to London. The Royal family rode in another coach.

The King will lie in state in Westminster Hall until next Friday. During the lying-in-state, the public will be permitted to file past in homage Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

While the Royal coffin moved through the streets of the capital, Elizabeth and her mother and sister, Princess Margaret, drove to Buckingham Palace before going to the service.

The Queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh and the dead monarch's brother, the Duke of Gloucester, walked bare-headed behind the coffin.

Hart at Hotel, "Feeling Fine"

HONOLULU, Feb. 11 (CP)—John Hart, former premier of British Columbia, was back in his Royal Hawaiian Hotel room tonight and "feeling fine" after six days in Queens Hospital.

He said he went to the hospital for a checkup and to recover from a bad cold.

"But I'm feeling fine now and I'm playing golf tomorrow," he added.

Mr. Hart came to Hawaii Dec. 13 for a six week vacation.

Figureheads Join Canadian Navy

When the Canadian frigate, H.M.C.S. Swansea left Bermuda last week she had on board souvenirs of the Royal Navy of the last century in the form of old-time figureheads. The tall, wooden lady in the centre once adorned the bow of H.M.S. Imaum, port guardship in Jamaica between 1856 and 1862. The kingly head belonged to H.M.S. Conqueror, another old-time Royal Navy ship. The British Admiralty has granted permission to the Canadian Navy to take them to Halifax. —(CP photo.)

Seattle Mayor Wins Primary

SEATTLE, Feb. 11 (AP)—Incumbent Mayor William F. Devin was a clear winner tonight in a primary election with 41,850 votes in complete returns from 87[illegible] precincts.

His opponent in the general election will be Allan Pomeroy, who trailed with 35,097. Devin narrowly defeated Pomeroy in the 1950 finals. Two political dark horses polled less than 3,000 votes between them today.

Primary elections were held today in 22 Washington State cities.

Higher Bus Fares Asked by B.C.E.R.

Cash Fare of 10 Cents Sought For Minimum Charge Zone

The B.C. Electric Railway Company yesterday announced it would seek permission to raise its basic Victoria bus fares from three for 25 cents to 10 cents each.

The company estimates the increase would bring in an extra $145,000 a year.

If it wins Public Utilities Commission approval, the company will raise the fares March 17.

The company is also seeking fare increases in municipal centres where it holds transportation franchises.

OUTLINES REASONS

Copies of a B.C.E.R. brief listing the proposed new fare schedules and outlining the reasons for the requested increases were delivered yesterday afternoon in Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt councils.

City Council will meet 10 C.P.R. representatives Wednesday to discuss the proposal. Meetings with the other councils are expected to follow later this week.

The proposed increases for Victoria would mean a straight cash fare of 10 cents, eliminating the sale of tickets. Weekly bus passes would go up from $1.75 to $2. Children's cash fare would rise from four cents to five cents.

Zone 2 fares would go up from 20 to 25 cents for adults and from five to six cents for children.

CHILDREN'S FARES

The increases would be the first since October, 1949. Children's fares have never been raised since the Greater Victoria franchise was signed in 1923.

E. W. Arnott, Victoria vice-president of the B.C.E.R., said in his brief to the councils that the fare increases are needed to meet higher labor, material and other operating costs.

He said the company was $375,391 in the red on its 1951 Greater Victoria transit operations.

New wage increases for B.C.E.R. employees, which become effective March 1, will cost the company $76,000 a year.

LOSS IN VICTORIA

In 1952, even if all other costs stay at present levels, he said, the company will lose more than $100,000 on its bus operations in Greater Victoria, unless it gets the fare increases.

All B.C. Electric operations on Vancouver Island, including gas and electricity sales as well as transportation, produced a net operating income of $551,859 in 1951.

The company has a depreciated rate base of $7,560,629 for Island operations. On this it is allowed to earn a maximum of 5.78 per cent profit. The company's $551,859 Island profit is 7.30 per cent on the depreciated rate base, or 1.52 per cent of the depreciated rate base.

MORE PROFIT

Lower mainland operations were more profitable, the brief shows. There the company's income was $ 923,907, or 6.55 per cent of the depreciated rate base of $14,097,887.

All B.C. operations brought in a net income of $8,475,496, the equivalent of 4.54 per cent on a depreciated rate base of $186,-646,44[illegible].

The new fares, suggested by Mr. Arnott (with comparison fares in brackets):

Metropolitan Fare Zone: excellent 11 tickets for 25 cents (10 cents), Adults cash fare 20 cents (10 cents), adult tickets some three for 25 cents (7 cents), children's cash fare five cents (four cents), children's tickets six for 25 cents (eight for 25 cents), weekly pass $2 ($1.75).

ZONE 2

Zone 2 (3½ mile to 4 mile zone) adults cash fare 14 cents (10 cents), adult tickets four for 50 cents (nine), children's cash fare six cents (five cents), children's tickets, five for 25 cents (eight for 25 cents), weekly pass $2 ($1.75).

Zone 3 (4 to five mile zone) Adults, 15 cents (10 cents), children's cash fare, eight cents (eight cents); children's tickets, 10 for 75 cents (10 for 65 cents).

Families Escape Flames

Fire swept through a five-room house last night, leaving two families penniless.

Mr. and Mrs. George Leadbetter and their five small children, [illegible] were away from home at the time, but two young girls were forced from their home at 536 Cecelia about 11:30 p.m. when a fire that originated in the kitchen of the Leadbetter house flashed through the rest of the rooms.

Neighbors saw Leadbetters next-door neighbor at 532 saw the flames sprang up the side of the house. While his wife was phoning the fire department, he rushed next door and helped get the children out.

The fire spread so quickly firemen were forced to carry the children through the flames that had cut off the back porch when they saw they were cut off from the rest of the house.

KITCHEN BURNED

The kitchen was burned out completely and heat and smoke damage took a heavy toll of the rest of the house.

City firemen arrived on the scene minutes after the fire started and had it under control quickly.

The basement suite where Mrs. Stevens and her children lived was not touched by the fire but water seeping through from above has damaged it extensively.

Heat from the Leadbetter house was so intense windows of the house next to it threatened to crack, and only quick work on the part of firemen prevented the fire from spreading to the Kneeshaw home.

Reds Announce Policy Change

MUNSAN, Korea, Feb. 12 (Tuesday) (AP)—The Communists today announced they were revising their policy recommendations for a Korean Truce.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il told Admiral Joyce delegates at the close of a 35 minute statement:

"In order that a reasonable solution can be achieved on item five of the agenda our side will be prepared to submit a revised version of our proposal at the next plenary session."

Item five concerns recommendations to the Korean being events concerning Iran peace.

The Reds had proposed a political conference be called within three months after a Korean armistice to negotiate withdrawal of foreign troops, a final peace settlement and sweeping Asian problems involving Formosa, Indo-China and other issues.

The U.N. command backed at including non-Korean problems.

Nam said he doubted if the new recommendations would be ready in time for a plenary session of the truce delegations tomorrow.

Liaison officers were instructed to set a date later.

Toronto Stock Swindlers Seeking Victims in B.C.

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

The stock racketeers of Toronto are turning the heat on British Columbians. Within the past few weeks a number of letters from Toronto investment dealers have been delivered on Vancouver Island.

Some of these letters come from dealers about whom reputable Toronto stock exchange members know nothing.

Though some of that latter do address you as "dear sir," the tepid from Toronto to one in quarter who had received an invitation to accept a "free" bottle try on Canadian stocks.

Most of these letters say: You do this without incurring any obligation!

TELEPHONE CALL

Another Victoria investor received a long-distance call from Toronto early one morning. The caller offered the purchase of oil-gas stock, but on interrogation refused to divulge the name of the local investment dealers concerned. But the Toronto promoter was curious enough after the call to find out from the Canadian Press if any arrests were being made in this province.

The Reds had proposed a political conference be called within three months after a Korean armistice to negotiate withdrawal of foreign troops, a final peace settlement and sweeping Asian problems involving Formosa, Indo-China and other issues.

PHONEY OPERATORS

Harry Gassard, director of education of the Canadian Investment Dealers' Association, said in Victoria yesterday that the association was very much alive to the presence of "phoney" stock operators.

"The trouble is it is very difficult to nail them down," said Mr. Gassard. "Most of them are skilful enough not to keep within the law.

Mr. Gassard, however, said that the public had an easy way of protecting itself by dealing only with reputable stockbrokers or by checking the credentials of any dealer before doing business.

Shabby Old Vagrant Loaded With Money

MARKESAN, Wis., Feb. 11 (UP)—Eighty-one-year-old Gus Neuendorf is going to stay home for awhile. His sight-seeing trip from his home in Markesan, Wis., to neighboring Columbia County stirred up too much of a fuss for his liking.

He went first to Portage, Wis. There police did what they thought was a kindness for a shabby-dressed old man carrying a stogie and an old suitcase and he spent the night in a warm jail.

Five days later, Neuendorf popped up at Cambria, Wis. He met the police there when a hotel clerk charged him with creating a disturbance over a $2 hotel bill.

The Cambria police escorted the guest back to Portage. There a search of his effects, it tended only to establish his identity, disclosed a wallet containing $113 and a second wallet with bank slips indicated deposits totaling $5,000. His suitcase contained $70 in $10, $20, $50 and $100 bills.

The police escorted Neuendorf to a bank deposit vault. Then they took him home.

Savings May Set Price Level

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP)—Graham F. Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, indicated today the rate of personal savings will be among factors determining the trend of prices this year.

He said it is difficult to predict what will happen to prices this year. It will depend on the rate of personal savings, the effect of increased defense expenditures in North America and whether any "frightening" developments occur in the international field.

Mr. Towers held a press conference to answer questions on his 1951 report of the bank's operations which contained a description of economic trends from the outbreak of the war in Korea in June, 1950, but gave no predictions.

PRICES LEVEL

He said an encouraging feature of the fight against inflation was the way in which personal savings increased during the last six months of last year. Another was that there was no increase in the wholesale price level in the last six months despite substantial increases in defense expenditures and capital investment.

Without giving the figures in dollars, the report said it was estimated that new capital investment expenditures in Canada during 1951 were 22 per cent higher in value than in 1950 and perhaps 9 per cent greater in physical volume.

"This investment would mean greater production facilities will be available this year," said Mr. Towers.

The bureau of statistics reported last week that personal savings had climbed to $1,791,000,000 from $820,000,000 in 1950.)

Once a Week

By H. T. Matson

A fortnight ago, in this space, panegyrics were sung to the transcendent glory of traffic conditions in Victoria. And so mellifluous were the allegros and crescendos that city engineer's traffic assistant, R. N. Doble himself, came down this way and joined the chorus . . . In jig time, and very pleasantly, he began readjusting what apparently was a slightly clogged carburetor, e.g. . . . He reminded that for Oak Bay junction an elaborate mechanical system had been ordered 18 months ago which, with a concomitant plan to duck down Uneva Street in order to avoid left turns off Oak Bay Avenue, had long since been proscribed, and that the latest gambit is to install a green-amber-red signal-plus a wooden "Stop" at the foot of Verrinder . . . which should work . . . providing the electric signal ever arrives. Re arrival . . . there are only two companies in Canada handling mechanical traffic equipment so don't expect the vehicular somersaulting at the Junction to stop today at noon sharp.)

* * *

Concerning parking . . . brother Doble quoted briefly from page 14 of the Traffic Survey Report . . . to wit . . . View Street, between Douglas and Broad, to be a one-way street going west with parallel parking on north side and diagonal on the south . . . View between Broad and Government to be one-way going east with parallel parking on south side and diagonal on north . . . Bastion between Government and Langley to be one-way going west with parking on the north. The above arrangement, quoth Monsieur Doble, would provide 33 extra meters at a place where they're badly needed and would be tantamount to 170 additional parking hours daily and 240 on Saturdays. Furthermore, no traffic would enter Government from View or Bastion, nor would any View Street traffic be crossing Broad.

* * *

Now most of us would prefer to breakfast daily on prussic acid than be beset by more meters. Albeit, the above scheme is good and should be effected without let or hindrance from any would-be quibblers in the aldermanic ranks. Unfortunately, and often, a surfeit of humming and hawing under the Town Clock not only retards but even kills the recommendations of capable men whose duties are to clean up civic messes as swiftly and adroitly as possible . . . it's the old, old adage . . . too many cooks and too many channels . . . while the colander cries plaintively for the soup.

* * *

Herr Doble is still here (at Victoria Press Ltd.) and now dilating on the somewhat fuzzy condition of traffic lines, both for vehicles and pedestrians. In essence, these lines are being deliberately left to melt for two reasons . . . (1) a proposal for altering existing lines will probably be presented at next council meeting, (2) main streets can only be painted during early morning hours—also surfaces must be 100 per cent dry . . . and re pedestrial lanes, an attempt will be made to have the "City" both bless and condone installation of permanent studs as per now in use at Fort and the notorious Broad Street jog. Agreed then, and particularly during present weather conditions, it would be a shame to waste the city's paint . . . and when impugned on the foregoing that traffic lines were mostly mythical in summer as well as winter, Mr. Doble quietly countered that last summer all traffic pains revolved in other stomachs.

* * *

Before returning to the Kremlin, Mr. Doble dropped some information anent our cherished "Round-About." Two oddities—and simple ones he tersely manifested. First, a "Round-About" proper permits no through streets . . . ergo, since Douglas Street is rated a through street then the thingmunyjig just isn't a thingmunyjig at all . . . Second, since law in this country states that traffic coming on one's right has right of way that therefore anything can rip into the vortex from the right, raise as much hell as it likes, then take off for the Riviera or Korea as it sees fit, and still remain within the letter of the law. However our "Round-About" can at least be assessed as a sort of kaleidoscopic quid pro quo . . . and infinitely better than the vehicular tilting yard that preceded it. The Trans-Canada Highway will, of course, eventually embalm Victoria's "Piccadilly C" . . . on which occasion The Colonist automatically becomes coroner and chief mourner.

Revenue Increases $170,000

Victoria will gain an increase in revenue of $170,000 in 1952 from a record high gross increase on assessments on land and improvements of $7,732,319.

City assessor-collector A. G. Joyce announced yesterday an all-time high on the total property assessment of $95,394,661. The increase in revenue is equivalent to 33½ mills, based on last year's 55 mill rate.

Though some officials felt optimistic over the revenue gain, others think it will be more than overshadowed by an estimated $750,000 loss in sales tax revenue for 1952 and increases in civic employees' wages which could reach $200,000.

In his report, Mr. Joyce states that using the 1951 mill rate, the total assessments would bring the city in $2,806,835 as against $2,636,003 last year.

NOT ALL TAXABLE

Of the nearly $8,000,000 total increase, only $4,637,230 is taxable. Of the $95,394,661 total property assessment, about $26,000,000 is exempt, Mr. Joyce reports.

This includes churches, hospitals, federal and provincial properties and the Empress Hotel which pays a fixed levy and is not taxed according to property values.

Of the $4,637,230 taxable increase, new construction accounted for $3,200,000 and sales of city-owned properties and the new equalization program accounted for $337,000, Mr. Joyce said.

Private Radio Stations Won't Advertise Friday

All privately-owned radio stations in British Columbia will cancel commercial broadcasts Friday, the day of the King's funeral.

This was decided at the B.C. Association of Broadcasters meeting Monday in Vancouver.

Special programs will be broadcast in keeping with the day of mourning and all regular newscasts will be maintained.

Victoria's private stations CJVI and CKDA, will observe the day of mourning.

Labor Talks Deferred

A trades union conference called at Vancouver by Thomas Uphill, M.L.A. for Fernie, has been postponed until March 7. Original conference date was Friday. It was postponed because of the King's funeral.

Mr. Uphill denied that his conference was called specifically to launch a new labor party, but he did not eliminate such a possibility.

"It is intended to give all trade unionists an opportunity to find an avenue whereby labor's voice will be heard," he said.

Communists Fear Thoughtful Youth

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

Communist party watchmen in Moscow have scented something dangerous among Soviet youth: some of them indulge in think-ing.

"This state of affairs has drawn cries of alarm from Pravda, which has been beating over the head the ministry of higher education, the Academy of Science and others concerned with education.

Students in several universities have been found guilty of "bourgeois objectivity." That means they have strayed from the party line in their examination of the things around them.

The entire Pedagogical Corps of the Soviet Union has been ordered to devote itself to "raising the ideological - theoretical level" among young students and teachers.

At the same time, the leadership of the Komsomols (Young Communist League) is frequently taken to task, particularly in Kazakhstan, Armenia, Uzbekistan and other areas where the fathers and grandfathers of the young-sters are not Russians. In some places there are organizations of students which are not truly Stalinist at heart. There is absenteeism from lectures, a cardinal sin.

Recently Pravda announced tartly: "The party organizations are under obligation to train the Komsomol activities in the spirit of Bolshevik responsibility for the carrying out of any assignment by the Communist party. It is the task of the party-Komsomol organizations to direct their activities and to extend to them the necessary assistance."

"Necessary assistance" invariably means "crack down, hard."

Bottles to Carry Hope to Chinese

RALEIGH, N.C., Feb. 11 (INS).—More than 1,000 students at tiny Lenoir Rhyne College of Hickory, N.C., have cast their hopes upon the water in an effort to cheer the people of Red-dominated China.

The "messages of hope," each in a sealed bottle, were delivered to Capt. Orion Larson of the President Lines freighter Lightning now en route to Pusan, Korea.

Larson will drop the bottles into the swirling currents of the Yellow Sea, which should carry them to the Chinese mainland near Shanghai and Tsingtao.

"Operation Bottles" represents months of hard work by the Lenoir Rhyne students. The bottles were flown to San Francisco Jan. 15 by Capitol Airlines.

President Lines officials found that the bottles floated too deep in water, so each will be buoyed by a colored balloon painted with Chinese characters.

In each also is carried a small quantity of rice, sugar, fish hooks, needles, cigarettes or chewing gum.

The time and place at which the messages for China will be launched from the Lightning still is secret. The company and student-sponsors at Lenoir Rhyne explain this is to keep them from being intercepted by Communist naval units.

Oil Discoveries Bring People

EDMONTON, Feb. 11 (CP).—Mayor William Hawrelak said today statisticians have estimated that oil discoveries in Alberta have been directly responsible for adding 23,000 persons to Edmonton's population since 1948.

Mr. Hawrelak, addressing an Edmonton service club, said oil and natural gas have brought $87,000,000 worth of construction to the Edmonton district, and it was believed $50,000,000 worth of subsidiary industries would be established here before long.

He said the annual population increase in Edmonton in recent years has been 8.5 per cent compared with 1.75 per cent in the average Canadian city.

Colombia Reports 44 Bandits Killed

BOGOTA, Colombia, Feb. 11 (AP).—The newspaper El Siglo, quoting official reports, said today 44 bandits were killed in week-end clashes with police in two sections of the country.

Oddities

PARIS, Feb. 11 (Reuters).—A Paris court decided Saturday to consider for a week the case of the red-faced concierge accused of opening her tenants' letters.

Tenant Jean Hulot suspected the concierge of steaming open his letters. He filled an envelope with rhodamine, an indelible dye soluble in hot water, and mailed it to himself.

The next day the concierge, Salice Philippe, 64, rushed shrieking from her apartment with her face, hair and hands a bright red.

Her lawyer said she had taken the letter from the postman with wet hands and the powder ran out of the corners of the envelope.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 11 (AP)—Lawyer Henry Strasburger lost his purse two weeks ago.

Two days later it was mailed to him, papers intact but $30 missing.

Saturday he received $30 cash by mail with this note: "I find the billfole and horry the 30 from it. Now I return it. Thank you for the lone."

Tax Men Accused Of Fraud

FORT WILLIAM, Feb. 11 (CP).—Three men today were being held on conspiracy charges following a seven-month investigation into alleged irregularities at the federal taxation offices here.

The three, arrested Saturday, are Israel Jacob Grosman, 36, former Toronto tax assessor; Wallace Charles Du Guay, 40, of [illegible] and Joseph Rosario Armand Seguin, 38, of Hull, Que.

Grosman was charged today with conspiracy to defraud, uttering forged documents and breach of trust. Similar charges were laid against Seguin Saturday. Du Guay is charged with conspiracy to defraud.

They were remanded for trial Feb. 16.

Seguin and Grosman are accused of making use of a false document which purported to relieve two city residents from payment of income tax and filing of returns.

The pair allegedly collected $3,000 from Mrs. Marjorie Irene Howard by informing her that income tax liability in the amount of $6,000 would be settled by payment of the lesser sum.

They also are alleged to have taken $5,000 from Mrs. Florence Hodgkins.

Radar Network Given Setback

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP).—Canada's radar network program is believed to have suffered a setback in rejection of 56 Diesel motors shipped to Canada from England and found defective.

Both Canadian and British investigators are probing the possibility of sabotage of the engines which are believed to have been destined for use in northern radar and signals stations. Reports are that sand was found in them.

The air force said today it is allowed only to say that the engines were found faulty by the government's inspection board and were turned back to the manufacturer.

U.S. Best Jet Pilot Shot Down in Korea

TOKYO, Feb. 4 (Tuesday) (AP).—Maj. George A. Davis, Jr., a steel-nerved Texan who bagged 14 Communist planes over Korea to become the United States' greatest jet ace, was shot down Sunday and is believed to have been killed, the Air Force announced today.

The 31-year-old airman's record includes 21 enemy planes—11 Migs, three Communist light bombers and seven Japanese planes in the Second World War.

(In Lubbock, Tex., the flier's wife told a reporter she would "like to ask a full-scale investigation of why he was left in Korea." Mrs. Davis is expecting her third child in May.

(In Washington, Representative George Mahon (Dem., Texas) asked the Air Force to investigate thoroughly and report to him on the circumstances surrounding Davis' death.

(Mahon said he had told the Air Force on Jan. 14 he thought the pilot should be rotated back to the U.S.).

Davis' Sabre jet spiraled down and crashed in Northwest Korea during a battle between two Sabres and 10 Migs just north of Sinanju, the Air Force said.

Davis did not bail out as his crippled Sabre spun down. The Air Force said an intensive aerial search of the region uncovered no evidence that the jet ace survived.

Davis was flying his 59th Korean combat mission since he went into action last November.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11 (AP).—Service station attendant Jack Moody stared in amazement, slammed down the hood of the car which had just driven in for oil, and then decided to take one more look.

Sure enough, sitting astride the sparkplugs was a tiny Pekingese dog.

The driver, Mrs. Carolyn Martinez, said she had been driving for miles before pulling into the station, had never seen the Peke before, hasn't the slightest idea of how he got there.

Schuman Asks Saar Treaty

PARIS, Feb. 11 (INS).—Negotiation of a special Saar treaty prior to the signing of a German peace treaty was urged today by French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

Schuman urged during debate in the National Assembly on establishment of a European army that all powers destined to participate later in German peace treaty talks join in a treaty with the Saar.

Progress on formation of the proposed European army has been halted due to the dispute between Germany and France over the Saar territory.

Schuman warned that the government of Edgar Faure has the alternative of continuing negotiations on a European army or abandoning the project.

He declared that if the project is abandoned "the United States and all other countries which feel themselves menaced will turn to other solutions carrying graver dangers for us."

Schuman went on to say that "Germany will take France's place and the discouragement of our Allies will have dangerous consequences."

'Streetcar Named Desire' Leads Oscar Nominees

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 11 (INS).—Nominations for the 24th annual Academy Awards, Hollywood's "Oscar" statuettes, were announced tonight.

The presentations will be made on March 20 at the Pantages Theatre in Hollywood.

Warner Brothers' "A Streetcar Named Desire," the earthy Tennessee Williams drama that became a successful movie after a lengthy stage run, led the list in nominations.

The production was honored with nominations for the best picture of 1951, best performance by an actor, Marlon Brando; best actress, Vivien Leigh; best supporting actor, Karl Malden; best supporting actress, Kim Hunter; best direction and a number of lesser awards.

BEST PICTURE

Vieing with "Streetcar" for best picture honors are "An American in Paris," "Decision Before Dawn," "A Place in the Sun," and "Quo Vadis."

Brando will battle it out for best actor honors with Humphrey Bogart, "The African Queen"; Montgomery Clift, "A Place in the Sun"; Arthur Kennedy, "Bright Victory," and Frederic March, "Death of a Salesman."

In the balloting for the best actress "Oscar," Miss Leigh faces sturdy competition from Katharine Hepburn, "The African Queen"; Eleanor Parker, "Detective Story"; Shelley Winters, "A Place in the Sun," and Jane Wyman, "The Blue Veil."

Nominated as best supporting actors were Malden, Leo Genn, "Quo Vadis"; Kevin McCarthy, "Death of a Salesman"; Peter Ustinov, "Quo Vadis," and Gig Young, "Come Fill the Cup."

The race for the best supporting actress will be among Miss Hunter, Joan Blondell, "The Blue Veil"; Lee Grant, "Detective Story"; Mildred Dunnock, "Death of a Salesman," and Thelma Ritter, "The Mating Season."

The nominees were selected by 11,739 members of the motion pictures industry in vote by secret ballot.

Japanese Fish Boats Fired on, Missing

TOKYO, Feb. 11 (AP).—The Japan Maritime Safety Board today said 10 Japanese fishing boats were fired upon in the East China Sea Sunday and are missing. Radioed messages said the identity of the attackers was not known, but they were believed to be Communist Chinese craft.

Free Booklet Tells How Deaf Hear Again With Startling Clarity, Ease

CHICAGO (Special).—New hope for the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing was voiced by a noted Chicago acoustical scientist.

He reported that, through the miracle of modern electronics it is now possible to overcome deafness even if the loss is severe.

He demonstrated how the deaf can hear again with a clarity and ease they never dreamed possible.

Appealing to this electronic engineer, Mr. Sam Posen of Beltone, "the longer a hearing loss is neglected, the harder it is to recapture certain speech sounds and understand them."

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with what can be done to prevent a hearing loss from becoming progressively worse, full authoritative details are described in an informative illustrated booklet, "New Discoveries To Help The Deaf Hear," which will be sent in a plain wrapper without cost or obligation.

To obtain your free copy, simply send your request to: Electronic Research Director, Dept. 751A, Beltone Hearing Aid Co., 1450 W. 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill. A postcard will do.

A Lame Duck Session

SINCE the Coalition's mandate ran out with the withdrawal of the Progressive Conservatives from the cabinet and their crossing of the floor to become the official opposition in the British Columbia Legislature, there has been no question as to the constitutional course facing Premier Johnson. It is to proceed with the already summoned lame duck session of the House, submit a brief supply bill for immediate provincial services, and to arrange for a provincial general election at the first possible date that it can be held. The rump government is without public mandate for anything more than the routine administration of British Columbia until its successor is chosen at the polls.

To argue, as some do, that the government should do this or withhold that matter affecting major public policy is to beg the fundamental question of its authority. The plain fact is that its mandate has run out, except as to the routine needs of the public service and immediate provision for its successor. Neither Premier Johnson nor any minister of his present cabinet can successfully maintain that they are part of a Coalition administration. Although all save one member of the cabinet now is a lifelong Liberal, not one of them was elected as such. Indeed, Progressive Conservative votes helped to put every Coalition minister in office. How can it possibly be argued that Mr. Johnson may continue at the head of a Liberal regime without public endorsement? — It may be that the Liberals, being nominally the stronger in the legislature and perhaps the readier in the country, might secure endorsement at the polls, but they certainly are not at liberty to infer that, or to continue without seeking the public's expressed will. Elections are as elections result, and no inference is worth the paper it is written on until the ballot test has been held. That means that the present confused, unsatisfactory and nebulous state in the affairs of British Columbia will continue until this question has been submitted to the voters and they have spoken. That is the chief and pressing duty before Mr. Johnson and his colleagues today, taking precedence over every other consideration. Nor can it be shouldered aside.

Time for a Change

ANY attempt to raise bus fares in the Victoria area, and this is in the offing, should invite a complete revamping of the fare structure in relation to the distance traveled. There never has been good reason why a person conveyed half a mile should pay the same fare as another carried three miles; and at a straight 10-cent fare, a figure now mentioned, this anomaly would work a greater hardship than ever.

It is obviously more convenient for the carrying company to have one fare for all people and all distances, but that is to suit the company's bookkeeping and ignores the factual incidence of bus usage. It is a fair bet that the bulk of bus travelers use this public utility merely to get to town and back, and seldom go on through to the other half of a route. In effect therefore the short haul passengers are subsidizing the long-haul passengers.

In older cities this has long been recognized by transportation companies and zonal fares instituted as the fair rate of charge. Bus travel is a commodity that is sold just as much as a loaf of bread, but nowhere is the same price charged for two loaves as for one. It is time therefore that new stock was taken of the situation and a new policy worked out.

Even if the alternative to the present one-charge system should be to have fewer buses running in outlying areas and more within the busy central section the argument for a new deal is still strong. Any contemplated revision of bus fares that ignores any longer the disparity between the price of a ride and its distance will be distinctly unpopular.

The "Hams" Are Always Ready

WHEN it becomes necessary to organize steps to counter disaster in any form, there is one group of self-trained specialists who need no urging from anyone. These are the ubiquitous "hams" of radio—the men, and women too, whose hobby is the building and operation of short-wave stations. This numerous fraternity has created an international communications network covering the entire continent and reaching to every part of the free world.

To the "hams" the passage of messages under difficult conditions is a fascinating challenge. The greater the difficulties, the greater their enthusiasm for the task. If atmospheric conditions are bad in one place they will find a way around the disturbed patch by means of relays from one amateur station to another until the chain is completed. The speed and efficiency with which communications can be exchanged through the medium of the amateur network have been illustrated times without number, not only in prearranged demonstrations but also in times of urgent need when regular channels were not available or were out of action.

In any local or national emergency the existence of this auxiliary network could be the means of preventing a major disaster. Even if all commercial and governmental systems were to be knocked out, the 7,000 Canadian amateurs could be relied upon to fill the breach with their independent and self-powered equipment.

It is not in the least surprising to find that the facilities of the amateur chain have been placed voluntarily at the disposal of the civil defense authorities. Long before postwar civil defense was recognized as a cold war necessity, the short-wave operators had rehearsed themselves to a high pitch of efficiency in disaster communications procedures, and for years have been standing by to go into action the instant an emergency of any kind might arise, periodically creating mock situations to keep their hand in. Theirs would be a vital role in defense, and it is good to know that whatever might occur, they are ready.

MUSIC ON AIR

Sir,—From your news columns I gather that there has been a sudden change for the better in the CBC broadcast programs and that your musically-minded readers are delighted. If this improvement continues we might be encouraged ourselves to join this intrepid band of listeners; but it is sad to reflect that it apparently requires the passing of a great Monarch before these commercial time wasters are cut from a government-sponsored network. The pleasure and educational value derived from CBC programs by substituting good music for the commercials could make a worthwhile advance which would well outweigh any financial loss. It is refreshing to find that listeners appreciate the present improvement and I hope it will be maintained to the point where we ourselves and many more may become converted to buying a radio.

THE HOSPITAL TAX

Sir,—I want to see this tax, and it is deliberately untrue to call a compulsory tax a service, abolished altogether. It will certainly be a hot issue in the forthcoming provincial election and will probably decide whether this province wants to be a welfare state or not. I, myself, will vote against any party which wants to continue the present utterly inept and unfair scheme. I have drawn the commission of inquiry's attention to the quite excessive tax levied on single persons with their one risk ($30) as against the family risk of probably four or five risks plus the expensive maternity risk ($42).

If it is decided that the hospitals must be maintained, would it not be a good plan to raise the sales tax to 4 per cent or even higher if absolutely necessary and abolish the so-called "premiums" altogether? But let this sales tax start only on purchases over one dollar. This would raise a present terrible burden on people on lower incomes and on our children's small but treasured purchases. Everybody would pay according to their purchases and everybody may require hospitalization equally. There could be no tax dodgers as there certainly are today. It would combat inflation by discouraging unnecessary spending. Pay-roll deductions are very popular with the government and apparently employers too, but in this case particularly they penalize the steady worker against the casual worker who flits about and cannot be traced. Waitresses, farm hands, jobbing gardeners, summer resort employees, cannot easily be checked by the government and they do not pay their fair share of the burden in many cases.

The sales tax, however unpopular, would save government employees and their not small salaries from running all over the country trying to track down the backsliders, quite a number of whom must turn out to be deadbeats anyhow. It would save an immense amount of billing and mailing charges and we have it established. Why run two systems with the great duplication of expenses?

JOHN KENNY.

HOLIDAY IN SCHOOLS

Sir,—It would seem that certain people are concerned that the children would remember the death of the King as a "holiday," a chance to flock to the movies. It would be fitting if they turned to page 29 of The Colonist, the Sunday edition of Feb. 10. Sometimes one feels that the children have more devotion and loyalty than we give them credit for. It is not for me to question the idea of closing the schools, nor would I be too critical of children going to the movies. For two hours my daughter, who is seven years old, cried about the King dying. Perhaps the youngsters where packed off to the show to forget about the tragedy that had taken place. Anyway, do we expect that we should put old heads on their shoulders? When my folks died, I was not allowed around to grieve, but it did not alter the love and respect that was held for my parents. God bless the children. Let them enjoy their young lives; the road of life is long and hard, with its bitters and sweets. Many a little child will lead us gently on our way. They will not be found wanting in loyalty. Every one, I am quite sure, would know why they were not at school. We all have a job to do. Let's not be too critical. If we do not make the peace that His Majesty the King strove for, only God knows the sorrows that may be in store for these, the least of which is precious to the Divine Master.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

THE monarchy—there is only one for us—has grown stronger as it has grown closer and closer to the peoples of its realms. And all because this ancient institution has become more personal, more human.

Yet, paradoxically, we refuse to let Royalty follow the normal instincts of humanity.

I'm thinking now of the arrival of the young Queen Elizabeth in London after a grief-stricken voyage from Africa. She belongs to a family bound together by love and affection, and she had just lost her father. Added to her sorrow was the knowledge that she was far away when he died.

* * *

Any other woman—note this—any other woman in her whole wide realms would have been free to rush immediately to her family, to her mother, to the comfort of her own kith and kin. In fact she would have been assisted in every way to that endeavor.

But Elizabeth was denied this simple human desire.

She had to hide her emotions and attend to affairs of state, to meetings and deliberations and arrangements. Not until the next day was she allowed to do what she must have be aching to do—go home.

Kings and queens have to be stoical, and Elizabeth has been trained to be a queen and knows what to expect. Yet . . .

Personally I think that sort of thing unreasonable, even inhuman.

Surely the state would not have fallen apart had this young Queen been given an hour or two's respite with her family in private—immediately she landed back in her homeland.

Of course it wouldn't.

Protocol, procedure, or whatever you call it, is badly in need of revision.

The monarchy might have withered away had it not changed its character during this century. It had to shed much of its austere aloofness, be less stuffy. It had to touch the common round more intimately, to unbend and ally itself with the life of the people. The present Royal family has done this admirably, and no doubt with gladness.

Hence the deep abiding regret at the passing of a fine man and the warm feeling extended to his daughter.

* * *

But fair's fair. Changes cut both ways.

If people want members of the Royal household to be human they should let them behave like humans.

Elizabeth, the news reports said, hid her emotions. We are told, quite often, this is traditional—that is, it is a custom imposed on members of the Royal family that in public they must betray no grief.

Could not the custom be relaxed, at least a little?

It seems to me it ought. I cannot see that the dignity of the crown would suffer one iota if the monarch or his or her family gave way at a time of great personal sorrow to normal human reactions. Rather do I think that by its very naturalness this would deepen the regard of everyone for the wearer of that crown.

Elizabeth is a queen, but she is also a woman. And a woman in distress should be lightened a bit of her burdens.

Reports From Ottawa

GEORGE McIlraith's surprise resignation as parliamentary assistant to the minister of defense production has more behind it than his stated desire to have time free to practice law.

By quitting, the 43-year-old Liberal M.P. for Ottawa West emphasized his dissatisfaction at having been overlooked for a cabinet post.

McIlraith, who entered politics because he saw no hope for Canadian youth under Bennett's Conservative government, has had his own hope for advancement under a Liberal government dashed repeatedly.

* * *

He has been parliamentary assistant to Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe since 1945, and has moved with Howe as the latter passed from one department to another. Meanwhile M.P.'s who became parliamentary assistants after 1945 were elevated to the cabinet: Resources Minister Winters and Immigration Minister Harris. And others who never served an apprenticeship got portfolios: Foreign Minister Pearson, State Secretary Bradley, Postmaster-General Rinfret, Mines Minister Prudham and Labor Minister Gregg.

Pearson entered the government mainly because Prime Minister St. Laurent needed his wide experience in international diplomacy. But the others got there largely because they were the most acceptable choices from their respective provinces.

* * *

Geography was against McIlraith, as it was against Ralph Maybank, the former Liberal M.P. for Winnipeg South Centre, and many others. But that was slight consolation. So after waiting two and a half years for a cabinet shakeup which never came, a cabinet shakeup which might have brought him a promotion, McIlraith turned in his resignation to the prime minister.

For nearly a year McIlraith has been parliamentary assistant to Howe in the latter's dual role as minister of trade and commerce and minister of defense production. For this double job, McIlraith got only one salary, $4,000 a year. He was ready to quit both posts, but St. Laurent persuaded him to remain as assistant for trade and commerce.

However, the one resignation was sufficient to make his point—that unless his work is rewarded with a cabinet job, he'll consider retiring to the semi-obscurity of the back benches, where he'll still draw $6,000 a year as an M.P. Then he'll have time to practice law.

* * *

IF I had the ear of Prime Minister St. Laurent, I'd say to him: Mr. Prime Minister, you've made Lord Alexander a Canadian Privy Councillor. That's all very fine. But why don't you give him something that would mean more, and that he would prize more? I mean, just make him an ordinary Canadian citizen like the rest of us—which you could do by merely having the cabinet pass an order-in-council.

I have it on good authority that Lord Alexander would like to become a Canadian citizen. In his six years in Canada—which in themselves entitle him to Canadian citizenship—he has learned to love Canada and Canadians to a degree equalled only by the respect and affection in which Canadians generally held him. It would be a far more fitting tribute to make him, and Lady Alexander too, Canadians in fact as well as in spirit.

The Sins of a Mother

(From The Edmonton Journal)

IT was not the fault of that Trenton, Ontario, mother, that her sin was not visited in terrible fashion on her children. A dispatch reports that police found her in a beer parlor while her home was burning down. She had left her four children alone in the house while she drank. Had it not been for her neighbors, the little ones probably would have been burned to death. Fortunately, all were saved, unharmed.

Public sentiment and the officers of the law were not content with the "happy ending" of what might have been a tragedy. The mother was taken into court on a charge of neglecting her children, a charge to which she pleaded guilty. She has been sentenced to two years in reformatory.

The court's decision is to be commended. Too many parents in this country leave young children alone in the home while they go gadding. And, too often, when the children meet with no misfortune as a result of this neglect, nothing is done to make the parents realize the seriousness of their offense.

In fact, too often no charge is laid even when the neglect ends in stark tragedy, with the children injured or burned to death.

The example set in the Ontario town is one that should be followed by law officers and courts right across Canada. Prompt and sharp punishment of neglectful parents would save many a child from death or injury; and might even put an end to parents' leaving young children alone in the house.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

A whale of the type portrayed in "Moby Dick" but called a myth by many experts, has been caught off Peru. As in the case of the A-bomb, fact in time catches up with science-fiction.

Speaking at a Rotary Club dinner, a British naval officer tells the tale of the admiral who got more than he bargained for. It was like this: half the port watch was watching boarding drill, the starboard watch was doing fire drill, the engine room was "abandoning ship." During the activities the admiral threw his hat on the deck in front of a very new sailor and said, "That's an incendiary bomb, my boy—what are you going to do about it?" The admiral was a bit taken aback when the lad solemnly picked up the hat and threw it overboard.

The amateur golfer stepped up to the tee and looked towards the hole some 250 yards away. Then he turned to the caddy and said, "That good for one long drive and a putt".

He addressed the ball very carefully and with a vicious swing drove it about two feet away from the tee.

The caddy stepped up, handed him the putter and said, "Now for the putt".

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

ONE of the interesting features of the recent controversy over the appointment of a Canadian to the office of governor-general was the great diversity of opinion as to when Canadian history began. In almost every viewpoint aired in editorials, letters and speeches, was to be detected a curious assumption that Canada's history began on such-and-such an occasion. The French-Canadians naturally supposed that it began with the arrival of Jacques Cartier. Many of the British-Canadians frankly assumed that it began with Wolfe climbing the cliff; though some of them offered the bland proposition that, for all practical purposes, Canada's history really began in 1867, with Confederation. Worse than that, a few of the controversialists appeared to hold the view that Canada's history began when they, or their parents, arrived in this country.

Nobody, so far as I have seen, held the view that Canada's history began ages ago, when this vast and mighty land first was thrust up from the sea; when her shape was designed, her mountain ranges fixed, her timeless rivers, running east, north and west, were established in their courses; her immeasureable riches of gold, silver, nickel, oil, iron, were pushed from within the earth to await our finding; her prairies spread across half a continent, and the ancient forests, in east and west, patiently built their own rich soil, for little men one day to feed off.

To confine our conception of history to the comparatively short period in which we few white men have been skirmishing around Canada is certain to distract our minds and hearts from a decent appreciation of the sublime gift that is ours.

We do not possess Canada. Canada possesses us. That is the gift.

Oppressed Minority

From The Printed Word

ONE thing common to all recent labor negotiations that have been reported within recent years is the emphasis placed on what the members of a union are going to get, to the total exclusion of what they are prepared to give in return. Concessions from union leaders, when an agreement is under negotiation, turn out, on examintation, to be abatements from the full amount of their demands rather than offers to lay a few bricks more in a day or produce another ton of steel or another motor car.

Where improvements in production per hour or per man can be reported it is usually owing to new machines or improved methods, rather than to harder work on the part of the workers. In other words, shareholders and management provide the improvements and employees reap the benefits, except for the share confiscated by the receiver-general, who does as little to earn it as an absent workman.

Such rights as the shareholders enjoy from their ownership of a company are becoming shadowy. In most large companies ownership is so diffused that their rights have diminished to the right to receive such dividends as the management may see fit to declare. The shareholder has to leave to management the tasks of deciding sales policies, wages and conditions of work, financing, disposition of reserves and the thousands of other matters, great and small, that his managers are trained to handle.

Normally the system works well, thanks to the competence of management; but in a labor dispute the dice are heavily loaded in favor of organized labor. Management, while recognizing its position of trusteeship for the owners, has to deal with the practical consideration that the shareholder has no weapon available of a force equal to the threat of a strike. When a strike occurs, and provincial or federal departments of labor take a hand in the settlement, there is apt to be a bias towards labor's side, because labor departments tend to become staffed with officers who are graduated from trade unions.

Departments of labor began when organized labor was weak, and when the workers in some trades had reason to complain about wages and working conditions. The need for labor departments has long since passed away, but it may not be practical to suggest that they be abolished, since the jobs they provide have become a vested interest. What might be practical would be the establishment of government departments of shareholders, with officers charged with the specific duty of representing the modern oppressed minority.

A Lament

O world! O life! O time!
On whose last steps I climb,
Trembling at that where I had stood before;
When will return the glory of your prime?
No more—Oh, never more!

Out of the day and night
A joy has taken flight;
Fresh spring, and summer, and winter hoar,
Move my faint heart with grief, but with delight
No more—Oh, never more!

—PERCY BYSSHE SHELLEY.

Immigrant Tells Story Of Fabulous Promises

Joseph Bueschkens agrees that Canada is a land of golden opportunity, but there's not quite as much gold lying around as he was at first led to believe.

He left his native Germany some time ago as an immigrant to Canada. Immigration authorities in his homeland painted a glowing picture of conditions in Canada. Laborers, he was told, earned $4 an hour.

Just go to an immigration office when you get there, and you will have a job within a matter of minutes—that's what they told him in Germany.

Mr. Bueschkens told the Victoria Gyro Club yesterday of his experiences since landing in Eastern Canada.

"Formerly he served as an agent for Pan-American Airlines in Germany. He spoke English well, and came to Canada with about $1,000 in his wallet. His heart was filled with anticipation and happiness as he thought of his newly adopted homeland. In Germany he had sold all his belongings, including a car, at ridiculously low prices.

"I almost gave them away, figuring that within a short time in Canada I would be able to buy everything I needed."

He traveled by train to Vancouver. Then the rosy cloud turned dark. Immigration personnel there noted he spoke English well, and said he would have to find his own job. But there was no job for him.

He was a fortunate immigrant: he had some money. With it he traveled back in eastern Canada to look in vain for a job. Then back to this coast.

EMPLOYED BY STORE

After a brief time in a New Westminster plywood mill, he came to Victoria. Now he is employed by a city department store. He is very happy about everything.

He answered a few questions asked by the Gyro men. The difference between east and west Germany, he said, was as that between day and night. "There is absolutely no individual freedom in the eastern sector. Everything is controlled rigidly by the government."

Conditions in western Germany were "very good," the speaker said.

"There is no rationing there. The Americans are pouring a lot of everything into the sector probably for obvious political reasons."

Canada Must Sell Self—Professor

Canada must sell herself to the oppressed peoples of the world if she expects to be on the winning side of the next world struggle, Professor E. D. MacPhee told his audience at a University Extension lecture last night.

"If we cannot make them want our way of life more than our resources, our dollars will never keep them on our side," he said.

Prof. MacPhee, director of U.B.C.'s school of Commerce, outlined Canada's defense economy, showing that we can and must pay our way in world trade.

"B.C. has the largest base metal industry in the world, and the greatest industrial scramble for these metals the world has ever seen is about to start," he said.

The demand for cellulose products has increased at a fantastic rate in the past 10 years, he said. The yearly demand runs to 25,000,000 tons, and the output is barely 9,000,000 tons.

MUST PAY OWN WAY

He said that if Canada is to pay its way, and being one of the stablest countries of the world we must, production has to catch up to wages.

"Wages are increasing from 5 to 10 per cent every year, and production is not," he said.

He rapped cynics who cried Canada was still a small country by population, and therefore should not have to shoulder the burden of responsibility of larger countries.

"Rome was, by our standards, a village when she went out and developed the western world, and England had no more population than Canada when she took on the burden of an empire," he said.

Touching on the subject of a possible war, Prof. MacPhee said that it will not be a two-party war, but the whole world will be involved.

IDEOLOGICAL REASONS

"It will not be a war in search of land or power; nor will it be one of spite or revenge, but rather it will be for ideological reasons," he said.

Steel and the ideals of the opposing forces will be the weapons used, he said.

Prof. MacPhee has held many other directing positions not only in this country but also Europe. During the war he was in charge of the distribution of equipment and material for the construction of airfields, and was director of trust and finance companies in England from 1937 to 1950.

He returned to Canada recently to take up his duties at U.B.C.

Union Official Raps Japan Ore Shipments

Shipment of Vancouver Island iron ore to Japan is prostitution of citizens' natural resources, union spokesman Jack Cornthwaite said yesterday.

He said shipping ore from the country rather than building Canadian smelters was responsible for unemployment.

Cornthwaite is business manager of Machinists, Fitters and Helpers Union, Local 3 (C.C.L.), in Victoria.

Defense Production Minister C. D. Howe said recently that production is at full speed. Perhaps at Sorel, Quebec, but not at Victoria yards, Cornthwaite said.

"We have men out of work because of a steel shortage," he added.

He cited ore shipments from near Campbell River to Japan and said the province should have smelters. The steel could be used for defense production, the oil pipeline and for tankers to carry the oil, the spokesman said.

He also referred to a comment of a U.S. spokesman who noted that the United States could take care of Canada's quota of 5,000,000 tons of steel.

"We should be telling them how much they can get from us," Cornthwaite said.

"Sending ore out of the country is prostitution of our resources, particularly as it affects the union."

Choral Group Draws Crowd

The Georgian Choristers sang to more than 700 people at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon.

The choir, under the direction of Vera Barclay of Winnipeg, sang selections from the works of Wesley, Bach, Elgar, Mendelssohn and Davies.

C. C. Warren, organist, played the first movement of the "Unfinished Symphony" by Schubert as one of three solos.

Union Elects MacKenzie

Jack MacKenzie last night was installed as president of Victoria Local 1-118, International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.).

Installation of MacKenzie and other officers elected by a recent referendum was performed by George Mitchell, district secretary of the I.W.A., Vancouver.

Other officers are Charles Crockett, first vice-president; William Muir, second vice-president; Ranjit Singh, third vice-president; Edwin Haw, financial secretary; Samuel Cook, recording secretary; Norman Salisbury, conductor; Robert Anderson, warden, and Ernest Knott, trustee.

Judge Blames Boy's Parents In Appeal Case

Delinquency of a 16-year-old boy was partly blamed on his parents yesterday by Appeal Court Justice A. I. Bird.

The lad appeared before the court to plead for reduction of sentence for theft and subsequent escape from Oakalla Prison.

"You would expect the parents of this boy to shoulder some responsibility. Instead they will have nothing to do with him," said Mr. Justice Bird.

Another young appellant, a 15-year-old boy who had escaped from industrial school 27 times and committed 52 burglaries, also appeared.

Both cases were remanded until next month pending reports from probation officers.

Alumni Group Of College Elects O'Neill

Jerry O'Neill was elected president of the new St. Louis College Alumni Association at a meeting in the college last night.

Rev. Garland P. Lyons, principal, called a meeting of past pupils for the purpose of organizing the association.

Brother Lyons feels that a society can be set up to bring together past pupils of all ages.

Others elected were Carbery Collins, vice-president; Shean Howard, secretary, and Len Duncan, treasurer.

A constitution committee was also set up.

Western Oils Weak Section Of Markets

TORONTO, Feb. 11 (CP)—Industrials and western oils closed sharply lower today as abrupt business dropped prices. Golds and western oils drifted downward under irregular selling pressure.

A growing list of secondary golds attracted interest. American Yellowknife added pennies in a turnover of more than 245,000 shares.

Western oil losses outnumbered gains about five to one. Anglo-Canadian, Devon-Leduc, New British Dominions, Pacific, Royalite, Scurry and United posted declines ranging from pennies to about 25 cents.

Base metals were mixed. Barvue, Cassiar, East Sullivan, Estella, Labrador, Quebec Manitou, Sherritt-Gordon and United Asbestos weakened while Macdonald, Mindamar, Opemiska and United Lead strengthened.

Senior golds dipped as Giant Yellowknife, Lake Shore, Malartic and Wright-Hargreaves traded lower. Secondary issues edged slowly downward.

Fraser Climbs

MONTREAL, Feb. 11 (CP)—Stock prices rallied from early afternoon weakness to close mixed.

Steels, banks and miscellaneous industrials closed higher.

Utilities were mixed for most of the session, with senior oils following in later dealings. Papers, senior metals, beverages and carriers were lower.

Fraser climbed to a new high of 61¾ before settling back to 61 at the close, up two points. International Power was up one point at 66. Up slightly were Canada Cement, B.A. Oil, Dominion Bridge and Dosco.

Walker dropped one point to a new low of 45¾. Algoma was off 1¼ points at 52. Electric Boat, Consolidated Paper, Bell, International Nickel, McColl-Frontenac and C.P.R. eased fractions.

In mines Consolidated Candego, Macdonald and Western Ashley were up narrowly, while East Sullivan, Hollinger and Sherritt-Gordon eased.

Lumbers Gain

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11—While generally lower some firm features were evident. Canadian Western Lumber gained 25 cents at 10¾, while Macmillan and Bloedel was firm at 23¾.

Higher among oils was Contenmila at 1.84, up 4 cents, but most others in this section were lower. Canadian Atlantic dipped 40 cents to 7.00, Britalta 15 cents to 5.05, Del Rio 13 cents to 2.22 and York 4 cents to .47.

Canusa Caribou was active at 5¼ cents, and gains were recorded by Kootenay Base Metals, Premier Border and Beaverlodge. Western Uranium was lower at 3.40.

New York Lower

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—In a pre-holiday atmosphere, the stock market eased a little lower today.

Losses went to around two points at the outside and plus signs were up as high as the one to two points range. Most changes, however, were fractional, and there was an unusual number of leading issues unchanged from the previous close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 30 cents at $100.60 with the industrials down 80 cents, rails up .10 cents, and utilities unchanged.

Textiles Dull

LONDON, Feb. 11. (Reuters) Leading industrials were mainly a few pence lower and there was a marked dullness in textiles and rayons on provincial offerings. Imperial Tobacco, however, held steady at 47/16 ahead of tomorrow's announcement of the final dividend which is expected to make the total payment for the year unchanged at 32 per cent.

British government medium and long-dated stocks were widely 1/8 down on scattered sales. Oils gave ground on some profit-taking on recent rises.

Parking Meter Tickets Costlier if Paid Late

A parking-meter ticket is going to cost motorists $2.50 unless it is paid within 48 hours.

This decision was handed down by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court yesterday.

"The considerable increase in meter violations has caused corresponding increase in preparation of summonses in the clerks' office and in the work of the serving officer; so much so, that it might be necessary to assign an additional constable to the work of service," the magistrate said in a prepared statement.

He added that it has been decided to increase the period in which the penalty of $1 for meter violations may be paid from 24 to 48 hours.

Maximum fine for the offense known this has never been handed down by any magistrate in Victoria.

Study Brings Breakdowns

More than 200 students suffered nervous breakdowns in one Eastern Canadian university in June last year, Rev. C. W. Sowby told members of the Canadian Club of Victoria at a noon meeting held yesterday in the Empress Hotel.

He was speaking of "Preparing Youth for Tomorrow," and said the young students who just finished "matriculation cramming" were breaking down at university.

He recommended a year or two of a "free education" period, before the high school student entered university to allow him to become "adult enough to appreciate the comparative freedom of university life."

Mr. Sowby, recently appointed principal of Upper Canada College, Toronto, is keenly interested in modern developments in education.

Cricket Club Unco-operative, Melbourne May Lose Games

MELBOURNE, Feb. 11 (AP).—The Melbourne Cricket Club refused today to permit the 1956 Olympic Games to be conducted in its vast stadium, and there is a possibility Australia may lose the [illegible]

"Trustees of the cricket ground said they "do not feel justified in compelling major alterations to the grounds," which had been sought as the main stadium for the Olympics.

Although the chairman of the Australian games organizing committee insisted the Olympics "will be held in Melbourne" four years hence, other athletic officials were skeptical.

There are no other grounds in Melbourne suitable for the Olympics, said Hugh Weir, Australian [illegible] national Olympic Committee, in Sydney.

"I fear the Olympic organizing committee in Australia will have no time to make a decision on what to do next, but that the international organizing committee in Oslo will make up their minds for them," said Weir.

MAY DECIDE TODAY

The I.O.C. will meet tomorrow and Wednesday in Oslo to discuss the situation, as well as the winter games in Norway and the summer games beginning in late July at Helsinki.

The Melbourne cricket grounds are the largest in that country, and the stadium seats about 90,000. It had been planned to make extensive re-building and enlarge the stadium to accommodate some 125,000.

W. S. Kent Hughes, chairman of the games organizing committee, said his group knew of three and possibly five other sites for the Melbourne games.

STILL OPTIMISTIC

"The Olympic Games will be held in Melbourne," he said. "Naturally the Olympic committee desired to hold them in the finest arena in the Southern Hemisphere, but this now is denied us because the arch priests of cricket in Victoria apparently do not even know how to play the game."

"These people do not seem to realize what holding the Olympic Games mean to a city or country. They can only think in terms of money."

There has been contention ever since Melbourne was chosen. Because the country is in the Southern Hemisphere, the games would have to be held in December, which would inconvenience athletes of North America and Europe who attend school during winter months.

This is the first time a city in the southern hemisphere has been chosen.

If Melbourne loses out, United States cities will undoubtedly renew their bidding.

At the 1949 meeting in Rome of the I.O.C. when Melbourne was selected, Detroit, Minneapolis and Los Angeles were the most spirited bidders.

Montreal was interested in getting the 1956 winter games but the committee chose Cortina, Italy, a ski resort. At one time there was serious talk of Montreal trying for the 1956 summer games but the city lacks suitable stadia for the big world sports gathering.

There were also reports that Toronto, with its Canadian National Exhibition Grounds and stadium as a nucleus, might be considered.

Duncan Girls Trounce Victoria Team; Eaglettes Best Lake Cowichan, 31-21

Victoria basketball teams split a pair of Lower Island final playoff games played up-Island last night.

Eaglettes took a 10-point lead in the first game of the two-game total-point series for the Lower Island junior girls' crown by defeating Lake Cowichan, 31-21, at Lake Cowichan.

C. & C. Taxi were unable to repeat the performance in the first game of a two-game total-point series for the intermediate "B" girls' crown, losing a 32-20 series to Duncan, at Cowichan High School.

Little Ellen Koenders of Duncan took the individual honors as she paced her team with a 16-point effort. She pushed up 10 of her points in the final quarter during which her team scored its winning margin.

The Taxi girls were never far from the winners in the first three quarters, but the strangeness of the large floor began to tell in the final stanza.

C. Copas, D. Winter and M. Pearce spearheaded the Eaglettes' attack as they each sank nine points. The Victoria champions relied on a strong second-half attack to pull out the win. They led 12-11 at the half.

Second games in the series will be played in Victoria but the dates have not been set as yet.

Lineups follow:

C. & C. Taxi—R. Ross 6, G. Koski 2, D. Koski 1, E. Blair 10, M. Moss, A. Sprinkling, V. Hearn. Total 20.

Kirchner Breaks Record In Schools' Road Race

Peter Kirchner, Victoria High School's contribution to the cross-country "Hall of Fame," added another title to his long list of accomplishments at University School yesterday when he copped the fourth annual four-mile road race between the two institutions in the record time of 23 minutes, 40 seconds. Previous holder was Hedley Sampson of Vic High, who graduated last year.

In team competition, Victoria High school scored a total of 23 points to their opponents' 58, for its second straight victory and third in four years. Scoring is based on one point for the winner, two for second place, and so on down the line.

A large crowd watched Kirchner grab an early lead, maintain a steady pace throughout, and stave off a desperate last-minute challenge by team-mate Harold Robinson. Robinson, competing in his first year of pavement-pounding, produced a Frank Merriwell finish, but could not overtake Kirchner, who finished a good 100 yards in front.

Dick Wood of the city institution finished third.

A total of 30 competitors took part in the event—15 from Victoria High School, 14 from University School, and one from Mount View.

The first 10 follow: 1, Peter Kirchner (V.H.S.); 2, Harold Robinson (V.H.S.); 3, Dick Wood (V.H.S.); 4, Bill Oldham (V.H.S.); 5, Jack Legg (University School); 6, Leon Goudal (V.H.S.); 7, Mike Chambers (V.H.S.); 8, Bob Jackson (U.S.); 9, Tom Richards (M.V.); 10, Don Thompson (V.H.S.).

Clark Returns, Individuals More Hopeful

Play-off hopes of Victoria Individuals, the city's senior "A" basketball entry, took on a brighter hue last night with the return to action of Johnny Clark.

Clark, high-scoring pivotman, took to the floor for the first time in weeks at Fraser Street Hall last night as Individuals downed Arrows, city senior "B" champions, 28-18, in an exhibition game. He reported that his injured knee stood up well under the test and he is being counted on for the forthcoming Island final against Alberni Athletics.

First games of the best-of-five series are scheduled at Victoria High School gym Friday and Saturday unless a change is made because of the funeral of the late King George VI.

Lunch-Hour Floor Hockey League Rousing Success

By IAN GLENDAY

"He shoots, he scores" is the famous trademark of Foster Hewitt, known to thousands of Canadian hockey fans as the "voice of hockey." But S. J. Willis Junior High School has a unique idea that far overshadows the N.H.L. in the eyes of approximately 150 students—a floor hockey league.

The voice and power behind the school hockey scene belongs to John Warriner, amiable physical education instructor. He thought it a shame to see the big floor of the new gym collecting dust and cobwebs, so last year he organized a floor hockey league. And what a success it turned out to be.

With basketball and badminton rounding out the noon-hour sports calendar, S. J. Willis has a lunch-hour period of athletics that is unmatched in any school in Victoria.

Warriner adapted the rules of hockey to suit the big floor, and with a few changes here and there, produced a set of rules.

Six players are permitted on each side, with the extra man designated as a "floater." Nets are of regulation size and the puck is composed of a piece of felt, about nine inches wide with a hole in the middle. The sticks are about three feet long with the ends taped to protect the floor. The sticks fit in the hole and what these youngsters can do with the puck is amazing.

A total of 16 teams compete in three leagues, junior, intermediate and senior. Playoffs, which are in progress now, are held after a rugged 14-week schedule to determine the winner of each section.

No pads are used to protect the players. As Warriner points out, it is the true test of sportsmanship with the youngsters taking their bumps and falls with nary a squawk. However, the contests receive the best of supervision and the teachers give up their lunch-hours to referee the games, getting as much kick out of the shennanigans as the players themselves.

The novel plan has gained so much popularity during the two-year span that the youngsters can hardly withhold their exuberance until noon, as best indicated by the fact that the cafeteria is not dismissed until 12.25, yet in five minutes they are changed, out on the floor, and rarin' to go.

It has also helped to solve the noon-hour discipline problem. Such an active interest has been taken in the league by the student body, that any day between 12.30 and 12.50 you may find the gym packed by noisy throngs all cheering for their respective houses to win.

Combines Top Heaneys, 3-1, To Share Lead

Victoria Combines moved into a first-place tie with Heaneys in the junior division of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association by defeating the Cartagemen, 3-1, at Lower Beacon Hill Sunday.

Cowichan Braves pulled into a third-place tie with Victoria College Vikings by downing the Students, 2-0, at Duncan.

Tillicums had no mercy for a shorthanded Maycock Optical squad in Division I, running up a 7-0 victory.

Army, Navy and Air Force Vets broke a two-way tie for first place in Division II by defeating Harris Cycles, 1-0.

On Saturday, James Bay Merchants and Eagles battled to a 1-1 draw in a Division III game, Mic Mac's and Combine Pee Wees fought to a similar deadlock in Division IV and St. Louis College edged Malvern House, 1-0, in Division V.

Touring Student Cagers Show Form in 83-43 Win

California High School All-Stars came to the Victoria High School gym last night, conquered the Victoria High Totems, 83-43, and captured the fancy of an estimated 550 enthusiastic casaba fans with a dazzling display of basketball.

Although appearing a bit travel-worn, the touring Americans nevertheless matched their height four players topped the 6' 2" mark—with intricate plays and deadly shooting. Totems probably played their finest ball of the season in the first half as they held the visitors to a 29-20 margin. But the All-Stars, gradually finding the range and getting the feel of the gym, turned the game into a rout, which was to be expected.

Paced by the 20-point effort of Bill Treu, who scored 14 of his 20 points in the last half, the pick of the Sunshine State kept the crowd in an uproar as they dropped shots in from all angles and seemed capable of scoring at will.

California ran up an 8-0 margin in the first quarter, before the home team hit the score sheet. Anderson broke the ice for the Totems and quick baskets by Jahraus and Shields cut the margin to 10-6. Both quintets split eight points to the end of the first canto and the All-Stars led 16-10.

Totems fared even better in the second frame as Jahraus continued his fine play—he led the Totems with 11 points—and made things extremely interesting for the Americans.

But height combined with deadly shooting and the Americans' alert ball-hawking ability broke the contest wide open.

Team line-ups:

California All-Stars—Bill Treu 20, Ed Aguirre 10, Kent Derwin 2, Phil Bluer 14, Billy Russell 14, Floral McKelvey, Jerry Phillips 18, Lyle Swanson 5, Ron Wagner. Total—83.

Victoria High School Totems—Shields 2, Jahraus 11, Anderson 9, Pederson 2, Oakley 6, Dennison 1, Hodges 7, Zarry, Woollett, Abbott, Donahue, Whan 3, Ash 4, Boyland 2, Kirchner 2. Total—43.

Grads Play Vic High XI

Victoria High School's Rep soccer squad will test its strength for the first time tomorrow afternoon at the Fernwood grounds when they meet a team of ex-students, all currently performing in the coast or district soccer leagues.

The city students could not have picked a tougher foe in making their initial appearance. Spearheaded on the attack by Cedric Robb, and steadied on defense by the capable net minding of Heaney's Bill Henderson, the Grads will prove a strong test for Victoria High as they start on the road that they hope will lead them to inter-high school soccer supremacy and The Colonist Cup.

Coach Neil Swainson has been putting his charges through several stiff work-outs and has 22 aspirants from which to pick his starting lineup.

The Grads will have Henderson fronted by Warren Harrison and Bill Bamford. Don Hendry, Bob Allan and Harold Holroyd form a rugged half-line. Robb will start at the centre-forward slot, flanked by Garry Pynn and Click Clark at the inside positions and Gordie Pynn and Alan Blair on the wings.

Game time is 3.30.

Cougars Get Opportunity To Close Gap This Week

Calgary	54	17	30	7	200	226	41
VICTORIA	50	14	28	8	154	210	36

Next games, tonight: VICTORIA at Vancouver, Edmonton at Calgary.

Victoria Cougars could climb as high as sixth place by Sunday night if they can uncover some of the form which carried them to the P.C.H.L. championship last season. And they probably won't have a better chance to make up ground in their battle for the sixth, and last, play-off spot than they will have in the next five days.

The Cougars play four games in that span, three of them away from home. They open play tonight at Vancouver and could move within three points of the Canucks with a victory. A setback and a Stampeder win over Edmonton Flyers at Calgary would leave the task immeasurably tougher.

NEED BEST HERE

Then follow two games with the sizzling Tacoma Rockets, unbeaten in their last eight games. Muzz Patrick's hustlers play here on Thursday night and entertain the Cougars on Saturday in the City of Destiny. Provided the Cougars cuff block off Canucks tonight, these may well be the key games of the remaining schedule for the Islanders. They wind up a tough grind at Seattle Sunday but catch the drowsmen just back from their second prairie invasion.

LINE-UP IN DOUBT

Coach Roger Leger was unable to name his starting line-up last night with Jack McIntyre a doubtful starter because of a shoulder injury. If McIntyre can play, it is probable that Joe Medynski, still with the club despite Vancouver reports, will sit this one out.

Cougars blanked Canucks Feb. 2 to break the Vancouver jinx and have high hopes of winning the balance of their games against the Mainlanders. The teams meet three times more before the season ends March 23 and unless Calgary keeps up last week's surge, these games may well decide the sixth playoff contender.

IRONMEN CONSOLIDATE

Seattle Ironmen, who had been rapidly slipping back into the fight for playoff positions, consolidated their grip on fifth place at Seattle Sunday with their first shutout of the season, a 4-0 job on the injury-riddled Flyers.

The Albertans, with four regulars already out, saw defenseman Pat Coburn get a 14-stitch cut over his right eye when he fell into the boards, and may have Jim Uniac, who was taken to hospital for observation when stricken by an appendicitis attack.

Civil Service took over undisputed possession of second place in the Victoria and District Football Association Sunday by blanking Alcos, 3-0, at Lower Beacon Hill. It was The G-Men's final game in the league schedule.

The loss prevented Alcos from picking up a single point in the second half of the schedule. It was their sixth setback.

Red McMillan put Civil Service into the lead with less than five minutes remaining in the first half, while Fuzz Blair picked up two goals in the second half to complete the scoring.

Alcos played without the services of four regulars, including goalie Doug Day.

The final league game between Esquimalt and Duncan, will be played next week end.

Chicago	14	32	5	113	182	33

Next games, tomorrow: Detroit at Toronto, Boston at New York.

Terry Sawchuk of Detroit is not letting up in his pursuit of the Vezina Trophy. He registered his 11th shutout of the season as the league-leading Red Wings downed Boston Bruins, 2-0, in Boston Sunday.

The three top clubs all scored victories Sunday. Toronto nipped New York Rangers, 4-3, in New York, while Montreal Canadiens turned back the last-place Chicago Black Hawks, 3-2.

FAVORITE TARGET

The Detroit-Boston game was a close-checking affair throughout with Sawchuk the individual star as he made 25 saves, many of them spectacular. Five of Sawchuk's no-score performance have been against the Bruins. The loss left Boston still in fourth place, two points ahead of New York.

Sid Smith and Max Bentley scored twice each to give the Leafs their verdict over New York. Ed Slowinski scored all three goals for the Rangers, but Smith's second goal at 11.51 of the final period proved to be the winner.

PENALTIES COSTLY

The odd features of Slowinski's hat trick — first in his N.H.L. career and first by a Ranger player this season — was that Jim Morison, Toronto defenseman, was sitting in the penalty box when the goals were scored.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD

Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

Let's imagine our pictured player is in a sand trap with the ball lying nicely. He is facing a head wind where he needs a low, long flight to get on in two. In this situation a No. 1 or No. 2 iron, perforce, is his choice. This choice is better than the No. 1 or No. 2 woods because he can probably get better accuracy and have less trouble from the sand with iron than with wood. The drawing illustrates the stance rather well. If wiggling the feet has positioned them say a half an inch lower than the ball lies of course you should allow for this in gripping the club. The ball should be played about midway between the feet because the club face must take the ball clean—no sand—as it reaches the bottom of the swing. Normally with a No. 1 iron you'd want the impact to take place just after the low point in the arc. But this is unwise from sand as you'd have sand between the blade and the ball, thus canceling distance.

Canada Falls Heir to Cup After U.S. Cage Scandals

MONTREAL, Feb. 10 (CP) — The Star said Saturday in a sportspage story that Canada has fallen heir to a trophy awarded to a United States basketball team at the International Jewish Games in Tel Aviv last year.

The American Maccabi organization has informed the world Maccabi Union that it is returning the trophy because cage scandals in the U.S. have involved several of their players, the Star said.

However, Canadian representatives of the Maccabis said Canada isn't interested in gaining honors by default.

Five Montreal and four Toronto players made up Canada's basketball team in the Jewish Games.

The trophy was returned apparently because three members of the American team, Ed Roman, Al Roth and Herb Cohen of the City College of New York, were charged with taking part in fixed games in the U.S.

Champions All Dethroned In City Tenpin Tourney

None of the 1951 champions repeated in the annual City tenpin bowling championships held at Gibson's Bowladrome over the week-end.

Red Lawson, defending singles title-holder, Cliff Thomas and S. Hulford, the defending doubles team, and Thomas, last year's all-events winner, all finished far off the pace.

Roy Chapman took two of the individual honors this year. He won the singles title with a three-game total of 694, including 54 pins handicap, and captured the all-events crown with a total of 1,869-162—2,031. He rolled 571 in the team event the previous week end and a 635 in the doubles.

Jim Ferguson was runner-up in the singles with 673, including 15 pins handicap.

Roy Smith and Ray Sparkes rolled 1,049-138—1,187 to capture the doubles title. They finished seven pins in front of John Roper and Walt Davis, who had 1,066-114—1,180.

Hopeful Soccer Secretary Envisions Vancouver-Los Angeles Coast League

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11 (CP) — A Pacific Coast soccer league extending from Vancouver to Los Angeles through San Francisco is the plan of B.C. Soccer Commission secretary John Richardson.

Richardson, who returned from a five-week vacation in California this week end, said he is astonished at the development of soccer in California particularly in San Francisco.

Before his trip, he said, he thought his dream of a Pacific Coast league was 10 years away.

READY FOR STEP

Now, after watching a couple of games in San Francisco he is convinced the American Pacific seaboard cities are almost ready for top-grade soccer.

In Kezar Stadium, San Francisco, Richardson watched Temple University of Pittsburgh beat University of San Francisco, 2-0, for the national collegiate championship. About 10,000 saw the game, which was televised.

"The Temple team," Richardson said, "could give any of our coast league teams a run for it. Their positional play was a treat to watch, and, surprisingly, the refereeing was perfect."

MAY PLAY HERE

Richardson also started negotiations for a San Francisco All-Stars versus B.C. All-Stars game this spring.

"We would try and get our boys down there for a game before the Tottenham game at the end of May," he said.

A return game here with the Americans would give the B.C. team a real test before meeting the English side, Richardson said.

Richardson said he thought Vancouver vs. San Francisco for planning a U.S.-Canadian league.

VICTORIA TOO?

His plan would be a four-team league, Vancouver, Seattle, Los Angeles and San Francisco with the possibility of Victoria also being included.

Richardson will lay the plan before soccer leaders here in the next few days.

But although Richardson was extremely voluble on his latest plan for extending the Coast League south, he kept silent on the question to which only he appears to have the answer—hurling of Callister Park, where the visiting Tottenham team will play May 31 and June 4.

New Westminster is making a bid to get one of the games played at Queen's Park. Any decision on this must hinge on the hurling of Callister.

Richardson will meet with Coast League, commission and P.N.E. officials on this question this week.

Defenseman Alf Guarda of North Bay Black Hawks, has been suspended indefinitely for failure to report the autumn training camp of the Syracuse Warriors. Guarda reportedly signed a "C" form contract with Eddie Shore's A.H.L. team.

Lystar Bats for Moody

"What do you have to do to get a game around here?" Coach Lystar Bennie the sweet-lipped Vancouver

According to Lystar, Lil Moody of the Victoria Ponies was even the coaching boys to get a game. Lystar said he was going to resign as coach of the Ponies.

Moody scored 4 goals and Lystar said he'll be back in the line-up when Alberta visits Victoria Jan. 30 and Feb. 1.

Moody, an Edmonton boy, completed his training in the Alberta capital before coming to Victoria.

Lystar's pep talk seemed to have the desired effect as the Ponies walloped the Vancouver Canucks 10-3 in the Pacific Coast Hockey League game at the Memorial Arena last night.

Moody scored 4 goals and Lystar added 2 more. Lystar also had a hand in 3 other goals.

Ponies' goalie Bill Rowe had a busy night as the Canucks fired 39 shots at him.

Ponies' defenceman Ken Smith received a penalty in the first period for high sticking.

NO. 52—NINETY-FOURTH YEAR VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1952 SECOND NEWS SECTION

Engineer Demands $9,000

The city has received a bill from former Memorial Arena consulting engineer Charles T. Hamilton for $9,212.10 through a Vancouver legal firm.

The total is made up of the sum Mr. Hamilton claims the city still owes him for professional services plus a $250 fee for examination of records following a query from the city legal department.

The account has been submitted by the firm of Collins Green Eades, Collins & McDonald which states it is re-submitting the account owing to a "slight error" in a previous one.

Mr. Hamilton's services with the city were terminated Aug. 15 1950 following a series of wrangles over construction of the arena.

DEDUCTS $500

In his account Mr. Hamilton shows his total bill as $31,162.10. He was paid $10,000 Oct. 1 1949 and $12,000 Feb. 20 1950. In addition he deducts $500 from his account as a "donation to cost of Memorial Plaque."

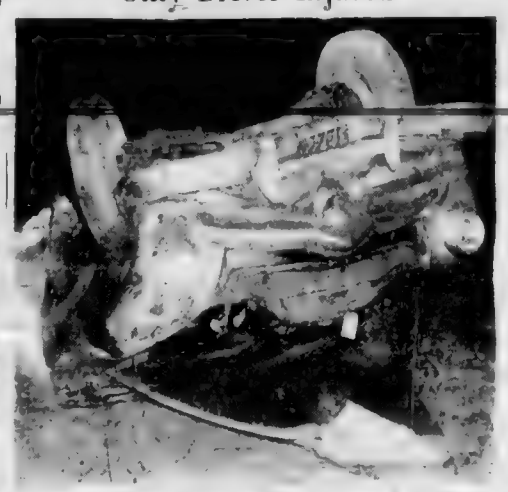
The $22,500 taken from $31,162 leaves a balance on the consulting engineer's account of $8,962.10.

A note at the end of the statement reads:

"This is my bill."

It is understood from certain officials that the city considers Mr. Hamilton has been paid in full for his services. The same sources indicate that council will probably refuse to meet the account.

Only Driver Injured



Amazing as it may seem, the driver, George B. St. Clair, 2555 Vancouver Street, received only minor facial injuries Saturday night when this car left highway near Thetis Lake Road. Passengers who escaped unhurt were James St. Clair, Howard Horner, Robert Street and William Webster, 1228 Oxford. R.C.M.P. estimated damage was $1,200.—(Island Events photo by Ace Merriman.)

Sewer Pumps Favored

A sewerage pumping system costing approximately $117,500 has been recommended by Saanich sewer and drainage committee.

Maintenance charges annually were estimated at $61,170.

The committee made its decision after studying recommendations from municipal engineer H. D. Dawson, and after turning down his suggestion that the system be one of tunnels costing $178,500.

The recommendation will be sent to council Monday.

The committee was told that [illegible] would save about a $200,000 debt encountered in the burnt marsh, and possibly lower the rate at costs are the by-law was passed and future rising costs.

Mr. Dawson said he favored [illegible] for possible future extension and area for eliminating cesspool pumping charges.

The sewer scheme was authorized in a $2 million by-law in 1950.

The Gorge area is under survey for installation. Each street will be decided on merits whether sewers are laid down the centre or at each end, Mr. Dawson said.

The estimates is based on disposal through [illegible] into Victoria's [illegible] sewer system.

Pumps would be located at Hampton and Vesta Road north end of Bodger, Albert at Obed, Avon at Gorge and San Sebastian at Gorge and Court.

He's Still Fleet-Footed, City Detective Protests

Detective Raymond Maitland of the city police department is not happy.

"I was home in bed at the time," he grumbled. "It was Const. John Maybin who lost the race and not me."

Det. Maitland spent his day off answering the telephone and trying to explain to "friends" that he could still "cut the mustard" in any foot race and that he "wasn't getting old."

Det. Maitland was winner of the 100 and 220-yard dashes at the University of Alberta in 1936. He also won the grand aggregate prize at the meet.

Victoria's Civil Defense Far Ahead of Schedule

Greater Victoria's civil defense organization has reached nearly all of the 1952-53 objectives set by the provincial defense headquarters and is ahead of many of them.

Leonard Hatcher, Greater Victoria civil defense coordinator made this statement yesterday in reference to a directive issued by Major-Gen. C. R. Stein provincial civil defense head.

"Almost all of the targets laid down by the government are well in hand," said Mr. Hatcher. He said while there were one or two items he did not fully agree with, most of the objectives have all been put into practice.

The government directive for example calls for at least 3 per cent of the population to be enrolled as civil defense workers by March 31 1953 with half of these recruited by Sept. 30 1952.

"We've already got 1.6 per cent," said Mr. Hatcher, "and I want 10 per cent."

Under other [illegible] orders including extra police firemen ambulance services etc. [illegible] general services and wardens Mr. Hatcher said things were going well. He added that arrangements for area headquarters were on hand.

In reference to Gen. Stein's instructions on warning systems Mr. Hatcher said six areas will be served for this area. Three were already working and 13 more were still to come.

The government's suggestions on supply, medical aid, feeding, reception, emergency feeding and transport areas were also being implemented, he said.

The directive suggests a total of [illegible] equipment will be completed by May 31 1952. Mr. Hatcher reports the first [illegible] was completed here last June.

He adds that first aid training has been started in the services and also civil defense workers will be trained in first aid. The government directive suggests at least one out of every 25 workers should be so trained.

Training for warden's to be completed by Dec. 31 1952 and March 31 1953 according to the government directive will be started "if the manuals arrive from Ottawa," Mr. Hatcher said.

In reference to the government's comments on municipal support of various target areas Mr. Hatcher said the three island coordinators would meet soon.

"I feel that we are doing very much," he said but added that as a No. 1 target area Victoria had many extras which were not so urgent for Interior points.

B.C. Issues Timetable For Total Preparedness

B.C. becomes [illegible] civil defense schedule [illegible] organization [illegible] be [illegible] recruited [illegible] equipped and ready for action by March 31 1953.

That's the latest date mentioned in a five-page timetable for civil defense organizations released yesterday by Major-Gen. C. R. Stein provincial civil defence co-ordinator.

The schedule sets a target date for the completion of basic recruiting, training, procurement and virtually every other aspect of civil defense.

It is believed to be the most complete civil defense schedule issued in Canada.

For the first time it gives B.C. civil defense workers a yardstick by which to measure their progress. Provincial officials think it will be a big help in co-ordinating the work of all defense organizations throughout the province.

COPIES FOR KEY MEN

About 1,000 copies of the timetable are being printed. They will be issued to key men in the existing or embryo civil defense organizations in 105 B.C. municipalities and scores of unorganized hamlets which fall within the province's five "target areas" and zones, two mutual aid zones and four mobile support and reception areas.

The schedule calls for a total civil defense strength of at least 10,000, one out of every 100 persons of the 1,000,000 or more who live in B.C.'s civil defense areas.

At least half of these workers are to be recruited by Sept. 30, 1952, the others by March 31, 1953.

TRAINING DEADLINES

Half the volunteers are to complete the prescribed civil defense training syllabus by Dec. 31 1952. The others are to be trained by March 31 1953.

Health and welfare services are to be completely organized by June 30 1952. Supplies required are to be tabulated by Sept. 30 1952.

Target areas are to give high priority to installing sirens and arranging warning systems. Other areas are to complete their warning systems using existing facilities, by June 30, 1952.

Indoor tactical exercises are to be started by April 1, 1952, [illegible] carefully controlled' outdoor exercises designed to [illegible] are to be planned for next fall.

New Canadians Require Substantial Shoes, Socks

Large size shoes and socks are needed by new Canadians, some of whom have been walking more than five miles from Victoria [illegible] building to [illegible] classes without socks.

English Taught By Mail

More than 4,000 immigrants to British Columbia are now getting English lessons by mail in 150 cities, towns and small settlements.

Dr. Edith Lucas, director of high school correspondence instruction for the provincial department of education, told of the work done since 1948 at last night's meeting of the Victoria branch, Canadian Citizenship Council.

Ex-Aldermen Both Doubtful On Nominations

Former alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter said yesterday he has "practically decided not to seek nomination" by the Progressive Conservative party for one of three Victoria seats in the provincial legislature.

Another ex-alderman, Millard Mooney, said he has not decided whether he will go after the Conservative nomination.

Both men were quoted in earlier reports as saying they were "considering" throwing their hats in the ring.

Dr. Hunter, who was defeated in a bid for the mayoralty last December, sat as a Conservative M.L.A. from 1937 to 1941.

Mooney was elected to council in a 1951 by-election. He failed to retain his seat in the December contest.

Belligerence Proves Costly

It doesn't pay to use physical force in an argument with a Mountie.

Two Duncan men found it out the hard way in a special sitting of provincial police court yesterday.

Magistrate A. J. Thomas fined Lorne Boyd Stoltz, 22, and Albert J. Nelson, 29, $100 each for obstructing a police officer and an additional $50 each for being intoxicated in a public place.

According to police evidence the two men were fighting on the side of the Island Highway near Pearl Road Langford, last Saturday afternoon.

Const. Norman G. Becker appeared on the scene in a police traffic car and broke up the argument.

He took Nelson's car keys and told him he could have them back when he sobered up.

Nelson objected, according to Const. Becker, and another fight started with both men piling on to the Mountie.

Traffic was snarled up as motorists stopped to watch the free-for-all.

After a brief but sharp scuffle in which Const. Becker "got in a few good ones," Nelson found himself handcuffed and in the front seat of the traffic car. Const. Becker then picked up Stoltz and put him in the back seat.

Both pleaded guilty to the offense after spending the week end in the city jail. They paid their fines and were released yesterday.

Car Hits Fence

A driverless car stopped its brakes, rolled down Gorge View Drive and crashed through a fence last night.

The car, owned by Earl W. Medland, 172 River Road, New Westminster, ran through the fence on the property of Bill Page, Gorge View Drive.

"False and Misleading" Statements Claimed by Supporter of Anscomb

Denis Hagar, prominent Victoria Conservative, yesterday claimed that false and misleading statements about B.C. Conservative leader Herbert Anscomb were published in Maclean's Magazine in a recent column by Blair Fraser.

The column "Backstage at Ottawa" appears in the current issue of Maclean's. Excerpts from it were published in Sunday's Colonist.

The story describes the end of B.C.'s Coalition government and tells of some of the "very old things" that go on in B.C. politics.

About former Finance Minister Anscomb, Fraser said:

"As chief owner and managing director of the Growers Wine Company, he sells gin which [illegible] with such distinction and such marked benefit to the government of which he is a member."

"This statement is both false and misleading," said Mr. Hagar, who is president of the Victoria Federal Progressive Conservative Association.

"The Growers Wine Company, a local industry with a list of shareholders running into hundreds merchandises its products in the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec and in the Yukon Territory as well as in B.C.

"Mr. Anscomb has been successive... treve of Oak Bay, mayor of Victoria, a member of the legislature for Victoria and is now the sitting member for Oak Bay, minister of trade and industry, minister of mines and municipalities, minister of public works and minister of finance.

"In all Mr. Anscomb's elections, the public were well aware of his business connection as were both the Hon. John Hart and the Hon. Byron Johnson when they re spectively advised the lieutenant-governor to appoint him to the executive council where he has served with such distinction and such marked benefit to the people of B.C.

"His entire public career has been indicative of the highest principles of integrity and political morality.

"The Conservative Party knows that it is going far under Mr. Anscomb and consequently has appointed him as their provincial leader."

Major Oldfield Named Defense Chief Warden

Major G. S. Oldfield, chief clerk for the bureau of economics has been named chief warden for provincial government civil defense in the Greater Victoria target area.

Major Oldfield will also be responsible for civil defense equipment issued to him and for organization of "self help" parties in basic civil defense.

City's First Cycloramic Screen Adds Depth to Film Showings

Latest wonder of the wonderful motion picture industry, the cycloramic screen, went into use in a Victoria theatre yesterday. It's what's believed to be a Canadian premiere.

The cycloramic, designed to replace the traditional silver screen, advocates believe was first introduced in New York just two months ago.

It consists of two layers of cloth treated with special [illegible] coating. Bottom layer is blue, the top one white.

It is credited with adding more depth to moving pictures and eliminating glare and distortion.

Sound is also improved, the manufacturers explain, because the sound comes through the cloth itself, not through holes as is the case with present screens.

Introduction of the cycloramic screen adds another chapter to the colorful industry which began with the invention of the peep hole kinetoscope and moved into the public entertainment field with the filming of "The Life of an American Fireman" in 1903.

BIGGER SHOW

First picture to be thrown on the new screen here is the "The Great Caruso," a somewhat more pretentious effort than the industry's first commercial success, "The Great Train Robbery."

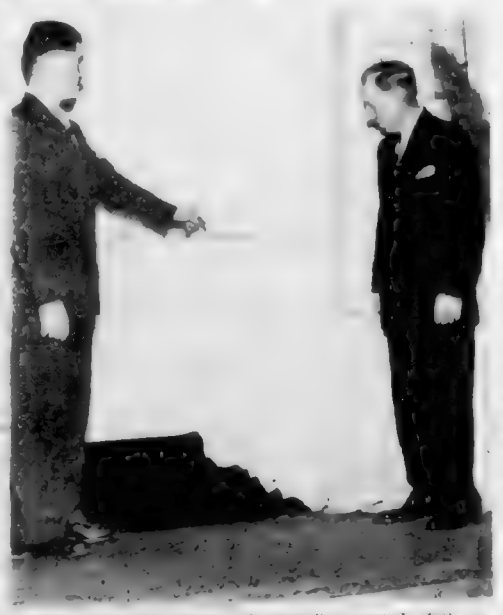
Since the train robber, the industry has developed through the panoptikon, the eidoscope, the cinematographe, and the vitascope to today's projectors which make the cycloramic screen workable.

High powered, expensive lenses in the new machines play a big part in the cycloramic screen's success.

The man who rode the cycloramic into Victoria is R. A. Nixon, owner and projectionist at the Fox Theatre here.

A veteran of 27 years in the new screen, setting it back about business. Mr. Nixon learned the trade by working as a rope rider in a Dominion [illegible] during the day and serving an appren[illegible] as a projectionist at night. [illegible] a better post than "The Life of An American Fireman."

He's added his own ideas to the scene.



New cycloramic screen of specially treated cloth is examined by theatre operator R. A. Nixon, right, and his son Jerry. First in Victoria, the new screen is said to give more depth, less glare and distortion to pictures. Screen has wings 40 inches deep to add to effect of perspective.—Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

Danish Captain Can Vouch For Proverb

Capt. P. Heisterberg can vouch for the truth of the proverb about casting bread upon the water. His commanding officer of the Danish motor vessel Aedby, here loading 1,500,000 board feet of lumber for England.

Away back in 1935 he was in command of a small craft in Chinese waters. One had right his ship rescued 12 Japanese men from a disabled sampan. Two years later his ship saved the life of a Japanese pilot whose plane had plunged into the sea.

Time passed. Then came the second World War. The captain and a ship at Hong Kong on the fateful eve of Dec. 7 1941, and among the many others he was taken as a prisoner of war.

Through efforts of his wife, living at Shanghai at the time, Japanese authorities learned of the captain's earlier saving of Japanese lives. He was released after three months.

WHERE IN THE WORLD

WAS THE U.S. SHELLED DURING WORLD WAR I?

ON NAUSET BEACH near Orleans on Cape Cod, Massachusetts, is a pile of shells. Only German shells of World War I, dumped on U.S. soil, landed in the March heavy. Here, one quiet morning in July 1918 a submarine suddenly surfaced off shore and [illegible] added a big and three machine guns firing 147 shots in a little over an hour. The aviation base at Chatham was notified immediately but [illegible] most of the flyers were away playing baseball; only one plane arrived to drop [illegible] trenches on the spot where the submarine had been! There is still no explanation [illegible] a German submarine should have wasted 147 shots on empty coal barges when the town lay at its mercy.

Medium, Small Oranges Cost 8 Per Cent Less

An 8 per cent drop in the prices of medium and small-size oranges was listed on the retail market yesterday.

The drop came as wholesalers announced a price reduction on the two sizes of 50 cents a case.

California and Florida grapefruit are plentiful, both at reasonable prices, it was reported. California grapes are expected today, and United States Anjou pears arrived during the week-end.

The last supplies of Macintosh apples from the Okanagan Valley have also been received.

Potato supplies are available from all parts of the province at the past week.

Though little price change has been noted from approximately $6 a hundredweight and more.

A second shipment of Mexican peas is expected. The first was sold completely last week.

Beef prices, meanwhile, were skidding, hamburger retailing at 50 cents a pound, minced round steak at approximately 97 cents and some sirloin and T-bone steaks at $1.

A general 10-cent over-all reduction on most prices and a 15-cent reduction on more expensive cuts have been reported during the past week.

Canadian Seamen To Be Certificated

New regulations governing able seamen in Canadian deep-sea ships will become effective April 1.

Able seamen are to be certificated after that date, according to Capt. Ronald Newell, Victoria's harbor-master and port warden.

A seaman who has served on deck in a seagoing ship for at least three years prior to March 19, 1951, may obtain without examination a certificate of qualification as able seaman.

All others are required to have at least three years' service, then pass an examination entitling them to such a qualifying certificate.

Capt. Newell also reports the transport department will establish special training schools for able seamen, the first two to be located at Vancouver and Halifax. Others will be established as circumstances warrant.

"This matter of able seamen being required to hold certificates of qualification is an excellent step in the right direction," said Capt. Newell. "Although it is something new for Canada, a similar pattern has been followed in Great Britain for many years, with marked success."

Irish Nationalists To Take Seats

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Feb. 11 (AP). — Northern Ireland's Nationalists have decided to scrap the stay-away policy that has kept their members of parliament out of Britain's House of Commons for 12 years.

The Nationalists, who want the six North Ireland counties linked with the independent Republic of Ireland's 26 counties, came to their decision at a convention in Omath, County Tyrone. The vote was 190-142.

Northern Ireland's two Nationalist M.P.'s, Michael O'Neill and Cahir Healy, will take their seats in the House this month.

Group to Hear Mrs. J. Godman

Mrs. J. Godman will address the monthly meeting of B.C. Indian Arts and Craft Society Feb. 22.

2 ♠	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
4 N.T.	Pass	5 ♥ (!)	Pass
6 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

North was probably so anxious to rehid his good heart suit that he lost sight of the fact that his five-heart response to South's four no-trump announced two aces which North would have difficulty in producing.

West made his natural opening, the Jack of diamonds, and it was a testimonial to South's self-control that when the dummy came down without an ace, South did not even twitch an eyebrow. Indeed, he went ahead just as though everything were in fine order, and by a cute little piece of timing, he made West an unwitting accomplice.

Instead of leading the singleton heart immediately, in the hope of "sneaking by" the trick, South used the far better psychology of drawing the trumps, thus deliberately taking out dummy's entry, before he made the heart play. West, to his own shame, fell squarely into the trap he ducked. That, of course, ended the matter. South was very gracious about conceding a trick to East's ace.

West was a little careless, to put it mildly. When dummy appeared without the aces North had promised, West might have realized that South had been misled into bidding the slam lacking two aces.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - - By Howard Garis

CAN'T GET OUT.

Uncle Wiggily who was making a snow house with the help of Pat Butler, the grocery store goat, stuck up his long ears and asked:

"Did you hear that, Pat?"

"I heard something, Wiggy," was the answer.

"What did it sound like?" Mr. Longears inquired.

"It sounded like a whuff or a whiff or, maybe a wnaff," said Mr. Butler. "I guess it was more like a whuff."

"That's what I thought," said Uncle Wiggily. "You didn't whuff, did you, Pat?"

"No, Wiggy, I never whuff. Sometimes I cough or sneeze or, once in a while I jiff or jaff. But I never whuff. Did you whuff, Wiggy?"

"No, Pat. I didn't whuff. I may have dooped or dapped, but I don't whuff. I wonder who did?"

Just then from the far side of the vacant lot there sounded a very loud "whuff!"

"There it is again, Wiggy!" bleated Mr. Butler.

"I heard it, Pat. Oh, look! It's our friend Mr. Stubtail the bear!"

"We are making a snow house for the children," said Uncle Wiggily. "It needs squaring off, for it is made of round snowballs."

"And it needs hollowing out so the children can get in," said the goat.

"So I see," growled the bear gentleman. He didn't growl because he was cross. Growling was his way of talking. "Yes, that snow house needs squaring off and hollowing out!"

"Pat and I were just going to get some shovels to do the squaring and hollowing work," said Uncle Wiggily. "When you come along, Stubby."

"Well, you don't need shovels now," said the bear gentleman.

"Why not?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Because I will use my paws and my long claws to square off the outside of the snow house and hollow out the inside like a pumpkin Jack o'Lantern," said the bear.

"That will be just what the doctor ordered," said Uncle Wiggily in his joking, funny way. "Go ahead, Stubby."

It did not take Mr. Stubtail long to scrape away enough snow from the outside of the pile of white balls to make it look like a big, square building block.

"Now for the inside," said Mr. Stubtail. With his paws and his claws he made a hole in the big, square white pile of snow. This was the door. Soon the door was made larger. Then Mr. Stubtail reached in and began to scrape out the snow from inside. In a short time he had made a big room inside the pile of snow.

"Now it looks more like a house," said Mr. Butler.

"I will tell the boys and girls, when they come from Hollow Tree School, that they may play in the snow house," said Uncle Wiggily. "Thank you for helping me make it, Pat and Stubby."

"The house is not quite finished," said Mr. Stubtail. "It needs a chimney on the roof." He quickly made a square window out of snow and put it on top of the house. "Now it is finished," said the bear. "I will shuffle back to my den and finish my winter hibernating sleep. Be seeing you, fellows!"

"Right, Stubby," said Uncle Wiggily as the bear gentleman shuffled away. Then he said to the goat: "While we are waiting for the children, let's you and I go inside the house."

"Sure! It will be fun," agreed Mr. Butler. He and the rabbit were soon inside the snow house. They were walking about, thinking what a fine house it was when, all of a sudden, there was a strange sound.

"Maybe we'd better get out of here, Wiggy!" bleated the goat. "The house may cave in on us. Let's get out!"

"We can't get out!" shouted Uncle Wiggily.

On Monday I will tell you what happened if the snow shovel will help the snow plow climb up the hill to go coasting with the rubber boots.

Sightless Victorian Plays Fine Bridge

By BARNEY McKINLEY

A sightless Victoria tournament bridge player and a blind radio repair expert in Montreal shared the spotlight today as Canada observed White Cane Week, Feb. 10 to 16.

The week is dedicated to the idea that blind persons can and should share in normal social activities and work, with the sighted — after suitable preparation.

The bridge player, T. R. Keith Stapleton, 329 Kingston Street, the operator of a C.N.I.B. stand at the legislative buildings in Victoria, is the first sightless player to take part in the annual city championship bridge tournament sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He has been eliminated from the top round of play but is still in the running in the consolation round. Opponents rated him an expert player.

He uses special cards which he reads with his fingertips, and must remember the dummy hand after it has been called out once, if he plays a hand. His partner deals because Stapleton's trained memory could give him the layout of all hands if he dealt himself.

The radio expert is Roland Burelle, Montreal, only blind Canadian to hold a graduate's certificate as a radio technician.

He repairs a radio the same way as a sighted person, but uses his ears and sensitive fingers instead of eyes. His numerous dials have raised dots for his fingers.

Burelle laughs now at people who said he'd burn himself black with the soldering iron.

"Ask my assistant who burns his fingers the oftenest," he says.

The White Cane Club in Victoria is holding open house during White Cane Week to show the public for the seventh consecutive year that even the handicap of blindness is by no means insurmountable.

The club operates on a yearly budget of $600. It teaches Braille and the less complicated Moon reading systems to members, and holds social and educational classes every Wednesday in Christ Church Memorial Hall.

A new workshop for the blind will be opened by the C.N.I.B. in Victoria on April 3.

City Juvenile Sentenced To Two Years in Prison

The first of 11 juveniles who face a number of breaking and entering charges in Victoria this year was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court yesterday.

He is Thomas L. J. Robinson, 16, of 1151 View, who earlier pleaded guilty to six charges of breaking and entering and theft and the theft of a woman's purse.

"On account of your age and in view of your past record and nature of these charges I have had a good deal of difficulty determining what is best to be done under the circumstances," the magistrate said before passing sentence.

Inquest Into Air Deaths Will Be Held Wednesday

Inquest into the death of two fliers at Patricia Bay Airport Saturday afternoon will be held at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Co. at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, announced yesterday.

Victims of the crash that occurred when their light single-engine plane plowed into a field near the edge of the runway were pilot Gerry Ralph, 17, 948 Inverness, and his passenger, Fred Corbett, 16, of 232 Simms.

R. Carter Guest, transport department district superintendent of air regulations, will complete his inquiry into the crash today, but said his report will be released by the minister of transport at Ottawa.

The R.C.M.P., in charge of the inquest, said they would not call Mr. Guest as a witness.

Corbett's funeral will be held at 3 p.m. Wednesday at Hayward's with Rev. G. R. Richmond officiating.

Interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Corbett, he is survived by a younger brother, Ronald, and a sister, Lorraine.

His grandparents, Mrs. F. Warnes, Happy Valley, and C. W. Corbett, Osoyoos, B.C., also survive.

Gerry Ralph's funeral will be held at 1.30 p.m. Thursday, with Rev. F. W. McKinnon and Rev. Dr. J. Barton sharing the service at Hayward's.

Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Ralph is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Ralph, a brother, Jack, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rawlinson, and Thomas Ralph, all of Victoria.

City Firemen Will Ask Conciliation After Deadlock on Salary Increase

City firemen will make application for conciliation after a deadlock yesterday on their negotiations for wage increases with City Manager Cecil Wyatt.

In a meeting with the manager yesterday, union representatives presented a modified request for a $40-a-month, across-the-board increase. Their original request amounted to about $53.

Representative David Pye called the $40 figure the union's "absolute minimum."

Mr. Wyatt told the group he could not "go along" with their demands and suggested he might consider "something like" $23 a month across the board.

"I can't see where any of your requests are justified except consideration for the rise in the cost of living," the manager said. He argued that the taxpayers' ability to pay must be considered.

"I must look at it from the taxpayers' angle," he added.

REQUEST FOR PARITY

The firemen's demands are based on a request for parity with Vancouver, cost-of-living increase, and several other points.

Mr. Pye said the firemen were "short-changing" themselves if they did not seek parity with Vancouver. He said up to 1948 Victoria firemen enjoyed this parity and "it's now our fight to win it back."

He added that his union felt the demands were "extremely modest by any other comparison."

The modified demand would cost the city $45,120 for wage increases alone, $16,062 less than the original request.

If all requests were granted, cost to the city would be $59,001.

Mr. Wyatt said he regretted that "we have to go to that expense" when Mr. Pye mentioned conciliation.

It is expected the application will be made within a few days.

Truman Requests Controls Extension

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP).

President Truman, saying the United States must prevent the fires of inflation from breaking out, asked Congress today for a two-year extension of price and wage controls. This would keep them in force until mid-1954.

Employment Picture Decidedly Improved

A decided improvement in the employment situation throughout the province has been reported by William McKinstry, regional superintendent of the National Employment Service at Vancouver.

"Since Jan. 31 there has been a decided improvement. If the weather continues to hold, we may definitely expect further improvement," he said.

A total of 57,547 were unemployed at Jan. 31. No later figures were available for the province.

Agents for unions which have many outside workers also are reporting improved conditions. Two or three men are being called each day, said Earl Allen, spokesman for the Victoria General Laborers' Union.

Meanwhile, employment services pointed out also that skilled workers are being drawn from the province to Ontario and Quebec. High pay and permanent work were given as reasons.

An exodus from the province to the United States continues in a steady stream, according to immigration officials.

Ancient Plumbing Scored

Ancient plumbing systems, 70 per cent of which have been installed more than 30 years, are making inspection more and more difficult, city plumbing inspector P. S. Ballam reports.

In his annual report, Mr. Ballam stated yesterday that emphasis is currently being required on additions, alterations, replacements and maintenance of existing fittings, rather than inspection of new work.

In the years 1900 to 1920, the report goes on, 8,787 connections were made to the city sewage system, while from 1920 to 1950 only 3,377 were made.

During 1951, the plumbing board of examiners held examinations for 33 candidates and issued 20 new certificates.

City Will Get Gift of Trees

Robert G. Jackson, well-known city tree-lover and horseman, has written Mayor Claude L. Harrison that he was having 500 silver birch trees sent to Victoria from nurseries in Sardis, B.C.

Mr. Jackson, who appeared in police court last year after his saddle horse had run loose in the city, is presently holidaying in Desert Hot Springs, Calif. He lives in Victoria at 1629 Rockland Avenue.

He has asked that the trees be nurtured for a year in the parks nursery here if they are too small to plant.

It is believed the gift is intended for the beautification of city boulevards.
